BUE DAILY MIRROR, Monday, August 7th, 1704, OUR HOLIDAY COMPETITION.

SEE PAGES 6 and 9.

The Daily Mirror

THE MORNING JOURNAL WITH THE SECOND LARGEST SALE.

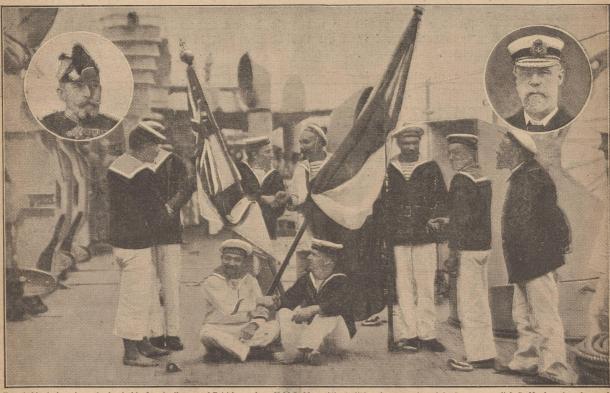

No. 550.

Registered at the G. P. O. as a Newspapen

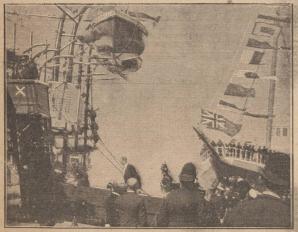

MONDAY, AUGUST 7, 1905.

One Halfpenny.

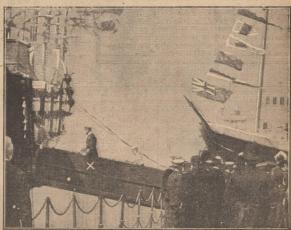

UNDER TWO FLAGS-FRENCH FLEET'S VISIT TO PORTSMOUTH.

French bluejackets from the battleship Jauréguiberry and British tars from H.M.S. Mars giving a living demonstration of the "entente cordiale." Nowhere has the good feeling between the two nations been more popular than in the naval services. Despite a considerable amount of ignorance of each other's language, the French and British "handymen" have contrived to become excellent friends. Inset on the left is a portrait of Vice-Admiral Caillard, commanding the French squadron, and on the right one of Vice-Admiral Sir A. K. Wilson, in command of the British Fleet.

King Edward boarding the royal ya cht Victoria and Albert at Portsmouth on his arrival from Goodwood. His Majesty's position at the head of the gangway is indicated in our reproduction of the photograph by a cross.

The Prince of Wales boarding the Victoria and Albert at Portsmouth. Immediately behind his Royal Highness in the photograph is his eldest son, Prince Edward, who is eagerly looking forward to the visit of the French Fleet.

CORDIALE. L'ENTENTE

As a further example of the good feeling which now exists between England and France, the success in this country of the French Natural Sparkling Table Water-Vernier -may be cited. Coming to England at a time when a cordial reception awaited all things French, its great merits were immediately recognised and its wide-spread popularity assured.

Ferrier is a light, crisp, invigorating water, sparkling with its pure natural gas. It is delicately mineralised and not saline. The innate freshness of Perrier makes it the ideal water for mixing either with wines-especially white wines-and spirits, or with lemon, milk, lime juice, etc.

IMPORTANT. Perrier is thought by many to be an expensive water. A glance at the undermentioned prices will show that on the contrary it is a water well within the reach of every householder.

Ferrier is bottled only at the Spring, Vergeze, Gard, France.

FRENCH NATURAL SPARKLING TABLE WATER.

PRICES.

Original Cases pe Prices Per Doz 50 Large Bottles 100 Half 100 Quarter ", 22/-35/-26/-(5/6) (4/6) (3/6)

Carriage Paid on Original Cases only. Empty bottles allowed for when returned Special attention should be paid to the large bottle, which is essentially the economical and family size. It holds as much as a syphon and costs under fivepence.

By Special Appoinment

H. M. THE KING. Also supplied to the House of Commons.

SAMPLE CASE for 2s. A

A Sample Case of PERRIER, containing Two arge, Two Half, and Two Quarter Bottles, with the Analysis and Medical and Scientific Reports on the Water, will be sent, carriage paid, to any address in the United Kingdom on receipt of P.O. for 2s. addressed to the London Office of PERRIER (Dept. 77), 45 and 46, New Bond Street, W.

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE AGENTS OF PERRIER.

London-Findlater, Mackie, Todd, and Co., London Bridge, S.E.

London-Ingram and Royle, Ltd., East
Panl's Wharf, 26, Upper Thames-street,

E.C.
London-Rishard Davis, 20, Maddox-st., W.
London-Bath, Mansfield, and Co., Ltd.,
15, Cockspuresteet, W.
London-E. Gallais and Co., Ltd., 90, Piccadilly, W.
London-Wm. Whiteley, Ltd., Westbournegrove, W.
Bringbridges, Smith, and Co., 83.

Birmingham—Innes, Smith, and Co., 83, High-street.

Bradford-John Lupton and Son, Ltd., 9, Cheapside.

Brighton-Findlater, Mackie, and Co., Ltd., 16, Prince Albert-street.

Brighton-R. Fry and Co., Ltd., Middle-st. Brittol-Ingram and Royle, Ltd., Bath Bridge.

Eastbourne—Findlater, Mackie, and Co.,
Ltd., 38, Terminus-road.
Hasrogate—Oldfield, Ltd., 8, Montpelier-parade. Leeds-John Lupton and Son, Ltd., 23, New Station-street.

Liverpool-Ingram and Royle, Ltd., 19, South John-street.

Newcastle-on-Tyne-Newcastle Breweries, Ltd., Haymarket.

Norwich-Chamberlin and Smith, Exchange-street. Nottingham-Ford and Parr, Ltd., Woolla-

Portsmouth-Portsmouth United Breweries,

Portsmouth—Geo. Peters and Co., 5, King's-road. Walsall—Fletcher and Garbett, Lichfield-st.

Firms wishing to become Importers, please write to Perrier (Dept. 77), 45 and 46, New Bond Street, W.

York-J. and G. Oldfield, Ltd., Lendal. Edinburgh-Dymock, Howden, and Co., 135, George-street.

Glasgow-Manuel and Webster, 103, West George-street.

Perth, N.B.-R. B. Smith and Sons.

Dublis—Robit Smyth and Sons.

Dublis—Abott Smyth and Son, Ltd., 6 and 7, Stephen's-green.

Dublis—Alexander Findlater and Co., Ltd.,

Upper Sackville-street.

Dublin—James Weir and Co., Ltd., 7,

Burgh-quay.

Dublio—Bewlay and Sons, Henry-street.

Perrier is obtainable at all first-class Hotels and Restaurants, and Mineral Water Dealers.

PERRIER (Dept, 77), London Office: 45 and 46, New Bond St., LONDON, W.

TWIN ARMADAS MEET TO-DAY.

Welcoming Crowds Await French Warships at Portsmouth.

THE KING AT COWES.

Week of Fraternal Joy and Jollity for Jack and Jacques.

Portsmouth has been waiting impatiently for weeks for the festivities which really began at the moment King Edward stepped out of the roya train on to the jetty on Saturday afternoon

Portsmouth then settled down seriously to the business of keeping holiday and making merry. That it is still a few days ahead of its visitors no one.

worries no one. The King's arrival was very quiet. There was no guard of honour, just a few officials in uniform on the jetty when his Majesty alighted.

A little handshaking and conversation followed, the Queen taking her part, and then the royal yacht was boarded.

The Prince of Wales did not arrive for half an hour, and when he did went straight on board.

Like the King, he was in naval uniform. Prince Edward and Prince Albert were wearing white sailor suits—three generations of sailors!

It was not till 3.30 that the Victoria and Albert started for Cowes, welcomed by the lines of decorated warships with royal salutes of twenty-one guns.

PORTSMOUTH PROUD AND HAPPY.

PORTSMOUTH PROUD AND HAPPY.

To Portsmouth itself the decorated streets are a great attraction. A party of townsmen stroll along. Suddenly they stop and gaze with looks of pride at a garland of paper flowers on one of the electric tram standards.

Those same standards have quite ousted the old style Venetian must bandaged with red calico. Even when a wooden must is employed it is made to imitate a tram standard.

The top of the decorated arch of the Gun Wharf has been turned into a battlemented fort, within which some magnificent waxworks keep 'armed, watch. The rest of the arch is splendid with trophies of weapons and armour.

The sallorman himself is not greatly concerned with decorations. He is going about with rather a do-or-die expression upon his face. He means business. He is going to act his part as host without any reserve. He is saving himself up for his work.

He loads keeply at the French civilian visitors as

He looks keenly at the French civilian visitors as though he wanted to start the entertaining, but does not quite know how to begin.

Meanwhile he shows his feelings by whistling the Marseillaise "and buying appropriate postcards.

FRENCH FASHIONS ADOPTED.

Even the police have caught the prevailing splrit. A constable near the harbour boasts a pointed black beard and pair of waxed black moustachios, and was greeted by a small boy with a call of "Frenchy." It was meant as a compliment and taken as such. One shudders to think what that small boy's fate would have been in times past. Southsea, armed with glasses and telescopes of all kinds, is anxiously gazing in the direction of Cowes.

Cowes, Just off Southsea beach are two lines of buoys. The nearer ones are green striped and conical, the outer are chequered black and white. They mark the channel along which the warships will have to pass. The old phrase of throwing a biscuit aboad just about describes the distance from the

Along the parade half the population of England might stand and review the ships.
Licutenan Dickens, R.N., who has been appointed interpreter on board H.M.S. Victory during the visit of the French fleet, is a grandson of Charles Dickens, the novelist.

STRANGE INCIDENT.

The battleship Centurion, just returned from the China Station, was entering Portsmouth Harbour when her paying-off pennant was caught by a gust of wind and blown around the mast of the xoyal yacht Victoria and Albert, which was lying alongside the dockyard with the King and Queen on hoard

The pennant was torn to ribbons, and a portion of it remained wrapped round the royal yacht's

KING OF SPAIN'S ODD TROPHY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Sunday.—The King of Spain has been the recipient of an original present.

A Paris tanner bought the bodies of the horses which were killed by the bomb aimed at the King's life, and has made from the skins a pair of bed-steps, so cutting the skins as to preserve the holes made by the projectiles.

WHIPS IN A PANIC. AMBASSADORS

Danger of Ambuscade by Alert and Wily Opposition.

"SLIM" POLITICIANS.

A state of panic exists among the Government

If the Government is beaten to-day-and a fresh surprise attack has been prepared by the Opposition—the Prime Minister's resignation is inevitable.

The situation is unusually delicate and peculiar. It is Bank Holiday. Scores of Ministerialists have already left town for the long recess; at least one hundred more, in the packing-up process, are indifferent about attendance.

But the Opposition are close at hand. At any moment the shouts of policemen's voices in Palace Yard, calling a division, may bring them into the lobbies in overwhelming battalions.

Frantic efforts are being made to keep the Unionist Party together, and a heavily underlined whip has been issued by Sir Alexander Acland-Hood.

The King will hold his Prorogation Council to-day on board the royal yacht in the Solent.

"C.-B.'s" INDICTMENT.

"C.-B.'s" INDICTMENT.

Regretting his absence at a Liberal garden-party at St. Albans on Saturday, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman wrote an important letter:—
"There is some danger," he observed, "of our being too exultant over the plight of the Government, their fate through this session having brought humiliation such as no other body of public men would ever endure or have been content to survive. Should they go on the further they go the worse they will fare. And why? Because they have no straightforward purpose in view save that of self-preservation." preservation.

"THE BEST SOLDIER."

Public Schools Make Rifle Shooting Obligatory on Every Boy.

King Edward said, a few days ago, how glad he was to think that the boys in our different schools will now take up rifle shooting.

The executive committee of the National Service League have followed up this royal encouragement, by offering to all public schools which would make physical and military drill obligatory on all boys, and rifle-shooting on all boys over fifteen, a gold and silver medal annually to the best-trained pupils, the idea being to honour "the best soldier."

Many calculation.

soldier."

Many schools have already accepted, including Uppingham, which is the first school in England to make rifle-shooting obligatory on all boys.

FACTORIES BURNED OUT.

Motor-Cars, Lace, and Jam Destroyed by a Huge Fire in the Midlands.

Fire destroyed a huge building known as Whitehall's Factory at Nottingham on Saturday, completely burning out hosiery, lace, motor-car and jam factories.

Three hundred workpeople are thrown out of employment by the fire, which only the wind prevented from spreading to the Theatre Royal and the Empire Music Hall.

the Empire Music Hall.

Twenty motor-cars were destroyed, and the total damage is about £100,000. A large stock of petrol fortunately escaped contact with the Hames.

Lamp-posts twisted into fantastic shapes by the heat in the street presented a remarkable appearance restriction.

ance yesterday.

TRAGEDY OF "NO WORK."

Charles Popple, an unemployed coachman, is under arrest at the Rodney-road Police Station, Walworth, charged with the murder of his two little girls, Gladys and Violet, aged four and two years respectively.

Early yesterday morning three girls were found at Sandringham-buildings, Munton-row, with their throats cut. Ada, the oldest girl, was still alive, and was taken to Guy's Hospital, where she is recovering. When taken by the police the father attempted to commit suicide, but was prevented.

GENERAL BOOTH'S MOTOR MISSION.

General Booth, in the course of his motor-car four, reached Swindon on Saturday. While he was addressing the crowd from a platform erected near the town hall vivid flashes of lightning accompanied

OF PEACE.

President Roosevelt's Welcome to Envoys from Russia and Japan.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, Sunday .- The peace plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan were received at Oyster Bay by President Roosevelt yesterday.

The Japanese representatives, arriving fifteen minutes before their time, were received with a salute of nineteen guns, and a similar compliment was paid the Russian plenipotentiaries when they

President Roosevelt received the representatives of both nations on board the Mayflower, where, after the luncheon, he delivered the following speech:—

"Gentlemen,—I propose a toast to which there need be no answer, and which I ask you to drink in silence and standing. I drink to the welfare and the prospecity of the Sovereigns and the peoples of the two great nations whose representatives have met one another on this ship.

"It is my warmest hope and prayer, in the interest not only of these two great Powers, but of all civilised mankind, that a just and lasting peace may speedily be concluded between them."

Despite the President's speech, however, there is, no disguising the fact that here the prospects of peace are regarded with anything but optimism.

Indeed, the general feeling that negotiations will fail was intensified by the news from the front that the Japanese army is gradually enveloping Vladivostok, the idea being to obtain a decisive victory in the event of the pourparlers leading to no satisfactory result.

On this side the prospects of peace are very dim.

REAL "JOHN CHILCOTE."

Servant's Impersonation of a Count Deceives Even the Countess.

Count Beniculli, an eccentric Italian nobleman, has a groom, Antinoro Paolo, who strangely re-

Disliking public functions, the Count asked his servant to impersonate him at society affairs at Rome. At Beniculli, one ball the servant met the Countess Rome. At one balt the servant met the countess Beniculi, and to her intense surprise, began to pay her as thous attentions.

As her harbound had neglected her for years, the Countess was overjoyed that his love for her had revived. But while the couple were out driving, Paolo's wife recognised her husband, and claimed

The poor, distracted Countess returning home on foot, wrote to her real husband, informing him how she had been deceived, and then poisoned herself with laudanum.

GRIM BREAKFAST PARTY.

Public Executioner Entertained by the Victim's Husband.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Sunday.-A public execution took place at Dunkirk yesterday, when the two men Van den Bogaert and Swartewagher, who murdered the wife of a sailor named Knockaert on Christmas wife of a sailor named Knockaert on Christmas Eve, were guillotined in the presence of a large crowd of people.

Among the spectators was M. Knockaert, the husband of the victim. He had, with some difficulty, obtained permission to be present on the scaffold itself.

After the execution he invited Deibler, the executioner, and his assistants to breakfast. At the close of the meal, which was quite a simple one, Knockaert proposed a tosast. "Let us drink," he sald, "to the Avenging Hand."

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS.

Forty more surgeons at least have been asked or to cope with the yellow fever epidemic in New

No rain having fallen in Rumania for two months, the crops are suffering very seriously. Yes-terday ikon processions took place throughout the

During the recent labour disturbances at Slodow ice, Russia, the workmen at a big flour-mill at-tacked the manager, tied him on a wheelbarrow, trundled him off, and tipped him into a sewer.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

Our special forecast for to-day is: Fair until afternoon or evening, then dull with rain in places; mild south-westerly winds. Lighting-up time, 6.39 nm. Sca passages will be moderate in the east, rough ga like west.

HOLIDAY HUBBUB.

Showers Yesterday, But Better Weather Promised for To-day.

ACCIDENTS NUMEROUS.

The weather experts were looking unusually pleased with themselves last night.

On the eve of the August Bank Holiday their orecasts assume exceptional importance. At no other time do millions of people look for them with so much anxiety.

And the weather experts have so far triumphed. And the weather experts have so far triumphel. They foretold a boisterous, showery Saturday, with weather gradually improving until Monday, when it would be fine. Their forecasts have proved unusually accurate, and the holiday-makers who were wise enough to follow the advice given in Saturday's Daily Mirror and take mackintoshes and umbrellas with them have in most cases cause to congratulate themselves.

But the prospect of showers daunted few on Saturday. Seldom have the London railway stations been so crowded. The rush to the seasidaresorts was unprecedented.

DRENCHED BY SHOWERS.

Every toad leading from London was crowded with holiday-makers on motor-cars, coaches, and cycles, and though many were drenched by the heavy showers they were as quickly dried by the fierce sunshine.

The steamboats running to Margate and Ramsgate, Southend and Clacton, were also crowded, over 6,000 people travelling down the river. But the London County Council boats were not unduly crowded—people were going further afield than Greenwich.

Greenwich.

To-day the weather prospects are more promising, though some rain may be expected towards evening, and all the companies have made great preparations for the millions who will leave town.

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS.

Many Holidaymakers Killed While Shooting, Cycling, and Bathing.

As usual in the holiday season there has been a arge number of accidents during the week-end.

While out shooting with a Mr. Leonard Phillips large number of accidents during the week-end.

While out shooting with a Mr. Leonard Phillips near Wadebridge, Cornwall, Thomas Knight put his ear to a rabbit hole to listen for a rabbit. He shouted, "Look out; it's coming!" to Mr. Phillips, who, as the rabbit flashed out, fired.
Knight, who had raised his head, was struck by the full charge and instantly killed.
At Chirk, North Wales, a horse drawing a lorry bolted. Mrs. Evans was flung out and seriously injured, and her husband and Thomas Evans were both thrown out and run over by the wheels, being so badly hurt they are not expected to live.
The horses attached to a cab conveying guests to a wedding at Newcastle took fright, and in their flight collided with a tramway post. The cab was splintered into matchwood, and one of the occupants—a young lady—had her ankle broken.
While motor-cycling down Shaftesbury-avenue, Walter Dunmore, of East Ham, collided with an omnibus and fractured his skull.
James Herklots, an Anglo-Indian, was knocked down and killed by a cyclist near Eridge.
At Whitby Bay, near Tynemouth, Frederick
George Parker was drowned while bathing.
James Perrin was killed while cycling in St.
Albans through a collision with a butcher's cart.
Through the explosion of a cartridge at Shoeburyness during practice with a 16-pounder gu four Volunteers in the camp were seriously burnt.
"He was sitting near the edge of the cliff, and the strong wind probably blew him over, for he clutched at the grass as he was falling," said a witness at the inquest upon Mr. Mitchell, a clerk in the Royal Exchange office, London, who was killed by falling from Beachy Head on Friday.

STORMS AND GALES.

Atlantic Liner's Wintry Voyage-Crops Washed Away and Fruit Ruined.

The Cunard liner Campania arrived at Liver-

The Cunard liner Campania arrived at Liverpool considerably overdue on Saturday after having experienced the most stormy summer passage within the record of her log book.
After having unusual heat near the American coast, she met with a sudden drop in the temperature, a howling hurricane, and tremendous seas.
So heavy was the weather that on one day the splendid vessel only travelled sixty knots.
A thunderstorm of exceptional violence passed over the South Staffordshire and North Worcestershire districts on Saturday. Causing many of the low-districts on Saturday, causing many of the low-lying lands to be flooded and crops to be washed

At the Lancashire Volunteers' camp at Scar-borough two large dining tents were blown down, and all the officers' crockery-smashed and food destroyed.

CHETTO PRIDE'S

Millionaire's Wife Visits the Haunts of Her Childhood.

UNSPOILT BY FORTUNE.

Mrs. Stokes, the Jewish cigarette-maker, who has married an American millionaire, revisited the East End districts in which she spent her child-

Ever since it became known that the girl it knew as Rose Pastor was coming to England the Ghetto has been in a wild state of excitement. "Will she come and see her friends again?" all her old neighbours asked; "or will she be too proud now that she is so rich?"

proud now that she is so rich?"

Those who knew her best answered: "No; she is sure to come and see us again; she has always loved the poor." And they were right.

About 1.30 on Saturday Mrs. Stokes and her husband reached Calvertavenue, Shoreditch, in their motor-car. Leaving the car with the chauffeur they passed through Ducal-street on foot, but before they had walked far the inhabitants recognised them. Immediately shouts of delight went up, and the neighbours, hurrying from their houses, joined in the welcome.

Chatting Over Old Times.

Onathing Over Old Times.

So thick became the press that constables had to effect a passage for the smiling couple. Mrs. Stokes, who was looking very beautiful in a brown tailor-made motor costume, at first appeared somewhat embarrassed, but soon recovering howed right and left in response to the welcome.

"Isn't she beautiful, and how glad she seems to be to see us again." They said to one another, whilst the men admired her husband's six foot of muscle. The parlour at 7, Chambord-street, where Mr. Levine, Mrs. Stokes's uncle, lives, had been specially decorated for the occasion with bright-coloured paper flowers, and in the place of honour on the mantlepiece stood a photo of Mrs. Stokes when she was a "hand" in the cigar factory at Cleveland.

land.

After Mrs, Stokes had chatted over old times for more than an hour with her relatives many old friends and acquaintances were summoned to welcome the happy bride.

Meeting Old Friends.

Clad in their best they trooped into the little room half-abashed for the moment, but soon were put at their ease by the graceful woman who talked so eagerly over the old days and inquired after mutual friends.

mutual friends.

It was a perfect triumphal progress back to the car when the visit was concluded. All cheered and wished prosperity to the girl who had so clearly proved that she was "unspoilt by fortune."

After a brief visit to I7, Black Lion-yard, Stepney, her former home, Mrs. Stokes and her husband drove swiftly away, leaving the Ghetto eagerly discussing the romance of the fortunate couple.

IDEAL HOLIDAY PLAY.

"Taming of the Shrew ? Successfully Revived at the Adelphi Theatre.

The verdict has gone forth that the public is tired of Shakespeare. That is because his plays are usually performed in a pontifical spirit, with are usually performed in a pontifical spirit, with low mouthings of his words, and a dreary rolemnity about the whole proceedings.

If, you want to see Shakespeare played, on the contrary, with a dash and a rattle, without pedantry, with plenty of fun and gatety—in a word, if you want to see him made amusing and treated as a dramatist rather than a bishop—go to, the Adelphi, where Mr. Oscar Asche and Miss Laly Brayton and their excellent company have just revived "The Taming of the Shrew."

Played as a farce, and in an inimitably hearty manner, it makes the most delightful holiday entertainment that could be imagined.

"DR. JIM" IN LONDON.

Dr. Jameson, the Premier of the Cape Parlia-ment, arrived in London on Saturday.

His visit is of a purely private nature. After spending a week-end at Blenheim with the Duke of Mariborough, he will probably go to Carlsbad for MET HER LONG LOST SON.

Coincidences are stronger than fiction. One has just occurred at the Law Courts, where a lady from Bury St. Edmunds, who had not seen here only son for forty years, and believed him to have died in China, was suddenly confronted with him in the Central Hall.

She came over faint and launch against a pull-

She came over faint and leaned against a pillar. A gentleman came to her assistance, and mutual recognition followed.

OVATION. New League to Reduce the Charges on International Correspondence.

A new movement to secure penny postage to all parts of the world has been instituted by Mr. Henniker Heaton, and over 500 peers and members of Parliament have already given their adhesion to the

In his appeal for members of his new league, Mr.

"It is intended to form a league for the establishment of universal penny postage, so that any inhabitant of our planet, white, black, or yellow, may be enabled for the sum of one penny to communicate with any other at the lowest possible rate and the highest attainable speed.

"The bour has struck for this grand yet simple assertion of the brotherhood of nations." Since 1868, when Imperial nearny nostage was assertion of the brotherhood of nations.

"Since 1889, when Imperial penny postage was introduced, our outward mails have nearly doubled. Every Friday some 250,000 British letters pass through France and Italy for India, Hong Kong, and Australasia.

"The postage on each of these letters is 1d. By the same boat a few British letters are carried for residents in Calais, and on these letters the postage: 2014.

residents in Cause, and is 24d.

"By what perverse ingenuity can such a distinction be justified, or why should a letter to New York cost 24d., and another in the same bag be carried through that city and 1,000 miles into Canada for 1d.?

"Without venturing to introduce the Sovereign's the annual we may confidently assume name in this appeal, we may confidently assum that we have his Majesty's silent good wishes."

LADY AND THE LIONS.

Will Her Parents Prohibit Girl's Daring Feat at a Seaside Zoo?

Can her parents stop the reckless folly of a young lady who delights in entering a cage of trained lions at Bostock's Zoo? is the question all Blackpool is asking.

Three times within the past week this Three times within the past week this young lady has gone into a cage in company with the trainer of the animals. To-day she threatens to enter the cage alone.

Whether she will do so depends upon the answer to a telegram sent late on Saturday night to her parents in the north of Scotland, where the father, who is a well-known Liverpool business man, is fishing.

103rd BIRTHDAY.

Aged Norfolk Lady Says Modern People Prefer Money to Happiness.

Mrs. Rix, who is living with relatives at Sprows-

Mrs. Rix, who is living with relatives at Sprowston, Norwich, attains her 103rd year to-day. She was born at Lowestoft, and her mother lived to the ripe age of 103.

Mrs. Rix has been married twice, and outlived both husbands. She is in possession of all her faculties and passes a good deal of her time in doing little odd jobs at sewing.

She attributes her long life principally to the fact that she has never taken medicine, and that she has hever taken medicine, and that she had been country life.

She told the Dail's Mirror on Saturday that, although "great efforts are being made to make life more comfortable nowadays, people are not so happy and will never live to any great a ge.

"The great object seems to be to make money, and for this people sacrifice health and happiness."

WORDS WITH HIS WIFE.

Tale of a Governess Car and an Alleged Bogus

Cheque.

Exhibited at the Park Royal Show, a governess car belonging to a Long Acre firm became the property of a Lewisham contractor for a few days. One day Joseph Russell, alias Roose, called with a cheque for $20 and a letter signed J. Wright, upon Messrs. Windover. The letter asked that the bearer might be supplied with the car. The car was handed over, and Russell attached it to his trap and drove away. But the cheque was afterwards found to be worthless, and the name Wright fictitious. At Bow-street, on Saturday, a Lewisham contractor stated that he bought the car from Russell, who said he had had words with his wife and wanted to sell it. Russell was remanded on bail charged with Russell was remanded on bail charged with obtaining the car by false pretences.

WORKING MEN AGAINST DIVORCE.

"The elergy should resist the profanation of the altars of the Church by the so-called remarriage of diverced persons during the lifetime of the hus-band or wile," ran a resolution adopted at Saur-day high's meeting of the Church of England Working Men's Society.

PENNY POST FOR ALL. WANE OF "NIGGERS."

Operatic Performances and Pierrots Preferred by Seaside Visitors.

BURNT CORK "LOW."

"The burnt cork line is played out," remarked the last, or almost the last, nigger minstrel at Brighton on Saturday evening, referring to the nigger form of entertainment by its professional

He mournfully watched the successful hat collections of a troupe of pierrots, and shook the pockets of his copious pantaloons to show that his own appeal for public support had been fruitless.

Seaside visitors have changed their taste. The bones, banjo, and badinage of the nigger troupe no longer delight them. Most of the nigger minstrels have discarded these time-honoured methods for the white dress of the pierrot.

They have fearned better-class songs and brighter melodies, their standard of humour has been raised. The "burnt cork" type of entertainment is considered childish and "low."

High-Class Concerts in Favour.

Public taste has changed. Concerts, operatic selections, and dainty little dramatic sketches form the principal items in the diversions of holiday-

The Daily Mirror has canwassed among its sea-side correspondents for opinions as to the favourite forms of entertainment.

forms of entertainment.

From a vast mass of correspondence we take the following:—

Brighton—"The entertainment provided by the White Coons is an entirely novel one to Brightonians. Their programme consists for the most part of high-class operatic selections, which prove extremely popular."

Weymouth—"We have no nigger troupe in Weymouth. There are first-class concerts on the sands. "Yo-san"—the Japanese song—is the most popular air of the year."

Bournemouth—"There is only one nigger

'Vo-san'—the Japanese song—is the most popular air of the year."

Bournemouth—"There is only one nigger minstrel troupe here, the concert arrangements being all organised by the corporation. The programmes are of a high-class character."

Blackpool—"Blackpool is overran by minstrels who are no longer niggers but pierrots. All day long they warble of "Angelina." The visitors dance by day and by night in the ballroom and on the deck of the central pier."

Aberystwyth "prefers the more refuned songs of the pierrots to those of the minstrel troupes."

Penzance "has no niggers on the sands now."

It is largely due to the corporations of the seasoide towns that the change in public taste has been so quickly appreciated. This year more than ever they have taken into their own hands the management of popular entertainment. ment of popular entertainment.

MINIATURE EARTHOUAKE.

Readway and Tramlines Blown Out by Terrific Gas Explosion.

It was like a volcano.

In Great Wilson-street, Hunslet, Leeds, on Saturday 250 yards of roadway, tramlines, and kerbstones rose into the air with a tremendous rumbling and crashing.

For some moments everybody was stunned. Then it was noticed that the air was laden with gas as well-se due:

well as dust.

Great volumes of steam and water were issuing from the broken water-mains, and for a while almost a panic prevailed.

It was marvellous that no one was hurt, with the exception of slight cuts on one man's face. A quarter of a mile distant a street grating was blown out by the explosion, which was due, it is believed, to an accumulation of coal-gas in the sewer.

TIME AGAINST TIMEKEEPER.

A fine of 26 and costs was imposed at Lancaster on Saturday on Mr. James Martin Inglis, of Edin-burgh, official timekeeper to the Automobile Club and the Scottish Cyclist' Union, who was returning from the Blackpool motor contests.

It was alleged that defendant travelled over thirty-two miles an hour. For the defence it was stated that Mr. Ingiis had a reputation for safe driving, and had driven the King and the Duke of BLACKLEGS' HOLIDAY.

Two blacklegs on Saturday evening tried to parley with the pickets of the Liverpool dockers now on stilke.

The pickets thought they wanted to arrange capitalation terms. The deputation, however, only desired a "passport" to enable them to take a week-end holiday.

The strikers good-humouredly gave 100 permits.

Foresters from all parts are assembled at New-castle for the High Court to-day,

"GREEN BUTTONS."

Inventor of Esperanto Addresses the First Congress of Disciples.

Nacio-Anglolando. Nomo-The Editor. Adreso-The Daily Mirror.

On receiving this invitation from the Esperantists, who have assembled at Boulogne to hold a universal congress, the Daily Mirror said: "Whato is thiso?"—only to find that unconsciously it had lapsed into Esperanto.

Add "o" to every word and you will pass as a scholaro of this universal language whose enthusiastic delegatos are now in possession of Boulogne.

"Bonan tagon, cu vi intencas alesti al la Esperantan Kunvenon?" Good morning. Are you going to the Esperanto Congress?" greets the visitor to Boulogne at every step.

It is hoped by Esperantists that our National Anthem will be closed for repairs, and emerge in a Nian Noblan Regon, La Gracian Regon, Dio Saru.

This is how it will appear when dressed in its

And with enthusiasmo, Anglolandos will canto, "Malamikojn pelu." Anglice, "Scatter his enemics."

On August 10 and 11 the Esperantists will come to England, and may be recognised by a green star worn on the coat, and Anglolandos will have an opportunity "por term ta betan langvon" of learning the baby language.

WINE FOR WARSHIPS.

Champagne from Australia To Be Exclusively Used at Launching Ceremonies.

Warship builders are keenly desirous of securing some of the new Australian champagne, for the Admiralty has ordered that no wine but Australian shall be used at the naming of the nation's men-of-

But the new wine is, say the wine merchants, excellent also for drinking.

"It is clean, clear, fruity, and with a grand body, and in my opinion rivals the best French brands," said a leading City wine merchant to the Daily Mirror.

"WAR TO THE KNIFE."

Cotton Employers Preparing for Strikes and Operatives for Holidays.

"It will be war to the knife," remarked a Manchester master, "if we are compelled to strike."

Every day the prospect of one of the bitterest

Every day the prospect of one of the bitterest struggles in the history of the cotton trade becomes more probable.

As a counter-move to the operatives' demand, the Bolton masters have given notice to reduce wages by five per cent. from the first making-up day in the week ending September 8.

At present, however, to judge by the aspect of the Lancashire railway stations, the operatives are busy more with the question of holidays than with the question of strikes.

PLUCKY "MERMAID."

Miss Kellerman Justilies the Highest Hopes by Her Splendid Practice Swims.

With a strong westerly wind blowing and a heavy sea running, Miss Kellerman, who is preparing to swim the Channel for the Daily Mirror trophy, swim the Channel for the Daily Mirror trophy, had a four hours' practice swim yesterday at Doyer. Diving from a boat about fifty yards from the beach, she swam straight out to sea in the teeth of a strong incoming tide.

For two hours she swam steadily, using her favourite double over-arm stroke in a style that delighted her father and "Skipper Cole."

After three miles the latter was quite content, but the plucky young "mermaid" shouted back, "Pm not coming in yet," and made for St. Margaret's with a magnificently strong stroke, arriving there in the best of condition.

Large crowds witnessed the attempt yesterday of Mr. C. H. Rendyl to swim from Richmond to Waterloo Bridge and back. In consequence of the strong tide he had to give up at Westminster

According to the request of the urban council the Duke of Devonshire has given four and a half acres of slopes, or terrace walks, in the centre of the town of Buxton, for the free use of the public for ever, but retains the land abutting on Terrace-goad for about forty feets.

PIANO CLUE TO

How Trackers of Missing Instru-· ments Proved Devereux's Guilt.

FEARLESS CULPRIT.

No communication has yet been received from the Home Secretary in regard to the fate of Arthur Devereux, now doomed to die to-morrow week at Pentonville Gaol for the murder of his young wife and her twin children,

Devereux is now imprisoned at Pentonville where his conduct is of a much more restrained character than when he was at Brixton awaiting his

Although the culprit betrays no sign of fear, or even anxiety as to the results of the final appeals for mercy, he seems to realise the awful fate which awaits him.

Traced by a Piano.

One of the most remarkable features of this extraordinary case is the way in which the whereabouts of Devereux was traced by a piano which had hired.

abouts of Deverenx was traced by a phano mean-he had hired. In October, 1899, Devereux and his wife visited the premises of Messrs. Dyson and Sons, piano-forte manufacturers, George-street, Croydon, and Windsor, and selected a Dyson piano on the hire Windsor, and selected a Dyson planto on the system.

This was sent to 119, North End, Croydon, Devereux's residence: They kept the instrument until April, 1800, when they returned it to purchase a full-aized upright grand, the murdered woman explaining that she wished to keep in her hand and obtain some pupils.

She also expressed herself anxious to obtain engagements as accompanist at local concerts, and Mr. Dyson obtained for her several such engagements.

ments.

This piano eventually came into the possession, by purchase, of a pupil of Mrs. Devereux, and her husband then obtained on the hire system another "Dyson," which was sent to Croydon, and afterwards removed to Walpole-road, Brighton.

The payments became irregular and then ceased altogether. The firm, being unable to obtain any reply to their applications for payment, eventually discovered the Devereux family at Willesden, the wife asking for further time on the ground that she had been ill and her husband out of employment.

The Fatal Trail.

The Fatal Trail.

Messrs. Dyson waived their right to take away the piano, but after a few weeks the family disappeared. In January, 1905, the assistance of Messrs. Dobbin and Randall, piano tracers, was employed, and so well did they do their work that they discovered the whereabouts of the instrument and of the family, which was at Coventry.

It was whilst making these inquiries that the piano tracers met Mrs. Gregory, the mother of the murdered woman, who was anxious as to the whereabouts of her daughter. After some difficulty the piano was localed with a firm of warehousemen, who had agreed to warehouse the piano and furniture.

who that age-ture.

The police had lost the trail, but on being in-formed of the discovery their further investigations led to the finding of the trunk with the bodies of the murdered woman and her children, and the murdered woman and her ceventually to the arrest of Devereux.

EXCITING ROOF HUNT.

Fugitive with a Knife Seeks Refuge in a Crowded Restaurant.

Dashing into a small Tottenham Court-road restaurant a man made his way to the top of the Armed with a knife he had eluded all efforts of Armed with a knife he had eluded all efforts of the police and public to capture him through a maze of streets near the Middlesex Hospital. He and two other men had been fighting with a father and two sons in the street. Finding blows useless he had snatched a knife from a provision shop, but had thrown it away in his flight. After twenty minutes the fugitive was captured on the restaurant roof.

JABEZ BALFOUR'S FULL MARKS.

When Jabez Balfour quits Parkhurst Convict Prison in November next he will have served ten of the fourteen years' sentence passed upon him by Mr. Justice Bruce. He has mastered printing, sung in the prison choir, and has earned the highest number of good conduct marks obtainable by a convict.

ROTTEN EGGS FOR LOTHARIO.

Learning of his wife's projected elopement with a close friend of his own, a Dundee man quietly arranged a gathering of neighbours. When the friend drow up to carry away the lady he was pelted with rotten eggs and heavier missiles.

DISCORD OF LOVE.

A MURDERER. Trombone-Player Must Pay Damages to Career of a Clever Rogue Who the Lady He Has Ceased to Adore.

> There was some merriment in the Birmingham Assize Court on Saturday when Frederick Corfield the trombone player at the Hippodrome, defended his own breach of promise. When not playing acted as insurance agent, and, calling upon Mr. Cramp, of Aston, for his weekly payment, he fell in love with that gentleman's daughter, Miss Alice Cramp, proposed, and was accepted.

> The engagement was duly sealed by the gift of a ring, but little misunderstandings arose in April rings, but little misunderstandings arose in April dast, when he found fault with her work as ware's house girl. To please him she took up the more geneel employment of waitress, but he "cooled off" and after an absence told his heart-broken sweetheart: "We are not adapted for one another, and I shall never marry you. I would commit suicide rather than lead you to the altar."
> She stoutly declared: "I won't give you up."
> Afterwards he called on the girl and said: "I know it is a contract job, and I have broken it."
> The lady said he had bought a 35 guinea piano for her, but she did not get it, and he had taiked or her, but she did not get it, and he had talked f building a cottage out of £200 he had in the uilding society.

uniding soriety.

Cosiedt read from a big notebook what purCosiedt read from a big notebook what purcontent to be "the story of his wooing." The roundle began when she charged him with "carryng on " with another haly—to wit, Miss Lawrence.
He treated this as a jobe " and they " passed a leasant evening, unclowded by any mistrust." But he haly once more referred to her supposed rival, and, said her lover, " our parting was marked y some degree of mistrust."

The jury found for plaintiff—damages £5.

VELVET GLOVE APPRECIATED. Passive Resisters Meet to Thank Policeman for Courtesy in Levying Distresses.

As chief warrant officer at Brentford Sergeant James Linnett, who has just retired from the Metropolitan Police Force, was the natural enemy of the passive resister

He retires, however, from the force with the distinction of being publicly thanked at a large meeting of those upon whom he has levied distresses.

A motion of thanks for the courteous manner in which he had performed his unpleasant duties was proposed by one minister, seconded by another, and supported by a third and two ladies. All of and supported by a third and two ladies. All or these persons had had their goods seized by Ser-

"TRANSLATING" BICYCLES.

How a Lost Machine Is Turned Into Something Their Owners Cannot Recognise.

Mr. Walter Bennett, a L.C.C. attendance officer, left his bicycle by the door while visiting a school

When he saw it again it has been "translated." The front wheel he recognised, but another frame had been substituted, and a different back wheel had been substituted, and a different back wheel inserted.

George Watford, of Pimlico-walk, Hoxton, in whose shed the machine was discovered, admitted, at Worship-street Police Court on Saturday, that he had carried out some of the work of "translation." But he contended that he had bought the machine for £1 from another man. He was re-

ADDING INSULT TO ERROR.

Offenders Released on Ball Keep Magistrates Waiting in Vain for Them.

Two Acton magistrates waited in vain for two offenders who had been bailed but had failed to put in an appearance on Saturday.

Stealing green plums from an orchard was the charge in one case and assault in the other, Finding their attendance was useless, the magistrates directed that the offenders should be asked Trates directed to come another day.

Jurymen summoned to a Marylebone inquest failed to put in an appearance. Mr. Walter Schroeder, the coroner, waited for some considerable time, but was finally compelled to seek men from the street to serve.

BETRAYED BY A SNORE.

"He was snoring loudly," said a constable of Thomas Lynch, at Willesden. He had been found undressed and fast asleep in a builder's shed. He had caused trouble in the neighbourhood by lighting fires and sleeping under sacks, and was remanded.

East Sheen Lodge, the home of the Duke and Duchess of Fife, is now in the market.

BANKRUPT LIFE.

Once Earned £1,000 a Year.

ROMANTIC VILLAINY.

Details of a most extraordinary career were re ealed at the Middlesex Sessions on Saturday, when nce of seven years' penal servitude was passed on Arthur Cecil Fenton, an accountant, of forty five years of age, for fraud.

A remarkable feature of the case was that he had previously been sentenced to five years' penal servitude for a similar offence. He, however, so recovered himself that he completely retrieved his character, and obtained a good municipal appointment at Woolwich.

Indeed, it was stated that his abilities were such that at one time he could easily command £1,000 that at one time he could easily command £1,900 a year.

When he left the Woolwich appointment he launched into company promoting. He then went to the United States, but, returning to this country, embarked on extensive swindling operations by answering the advertisements of people who had articles to sell.

According to a confession he made to the police, he obtained goods from people living at Marborough, Salford, Lingfield, Islington, Doncaster, Chingford, Wimbledon, Nottingham, Walcfield, Kettering, Ramsgate, Staines, Birmingham, Portsmouth, and Finchley.

Companies All Swindles.

Companies All Swindles.

The most romantic part of Fenton's career was revealed by Sir Ralph Littler, who remarked that it was a most unhappy case. In 1898, fie said, Fenton was secretary to companies, all of which seemed to have been swindles, and he subsequently became a bankrupt.

In 1896 he left his wife and family and went to America. After getting the berth at Woolwich he became engaged to a lady with £290. He married her and spent all her money in debauchery.

This woman, who was in conflortable circumstances before this bigamous marriage, was now getting her living as a domestic servant.

Just after that he became acquainted with another woman, who was possessed of £55. This money he got, and three days before the married man. His friends were asking that he might be allowed to return to New York, but he thought that if he went to New York, but no though that if he went to New York, but no though that if he went to New York, but he thought that if he went to New York, but he thought that if he went to New York he would be dealt with as being an undesirable. He did not think it right when they were strengthening the law to keep out persons such as this—they should not send him there.

Sir Ralph said he had seidom had a more despicable scounderle before film than Fenton.

The real wife of the prisoner is living in a state of poverty, and since the last trial she has expressed surprise that he had committed bigamy.

"DIE WITH ME."

Lovelorn Gunner Tries To Poison His Sweetheart and Kills Himself.

Clara Stoneham, a Deptford girl, related to the Greenwich coroner on Saturday a remarkable story concerning the tragic death of her lover, Gunner Jesse Smith, of the 143rd Battery Royal Field Artillery, who, before poisoning himself, attempted to cut her throat.

Miss Stoneham as and that she met Smith, with whom she had been keeping company for sixteen months, on Wednesday night.

They walked up Vanbrugh Hill, Blackheath, where he asked her to give up her situation.

"He kept on asking me," she continued, "if I would take poison and die with him, and let it be a planned job."

The girl then related how she tried to wrest a bottle of poison from her lover.

He threw her down, passed a knife across her throat, and tried to make her take the liquid. She spat out the poison, but in the meantime the man poisoned himself, and the jury on Saturday returned a verdict of Suicide during temporary insanity.

HALF-BACK'S BROKEN VOW.

"Your true lover for ever," were the words with which Luke Raisbeck, the international half-back, is alleged to have wound up one of his letters to Miss Mary Richards, a Glasgow lady. But Raisbeck married somebody else, and there is now a breach of promise action for £500 pending.

"WOULD NOT HURT A WORM."

After living for eight months with Daniel Webster on the barge Condor, at Camden Town, Honora Doyle was ejected.

This was her story at Worship-street, where she charged him with assault. Phoche Wise, the lady who now occupied her place, said Webster would not hurt a worm. He was also

BARON AND FISHERMEN.

Teutonic Wrath Leads to a Scuffle with Undergraduates.

Two Cambridge undergraduates had a rare story ked Baron invaded their boat and, in the course of a fierce battle, nearly throttled one of them.

While they were peacefully fishing from a boa moored to the bank they were hailed by a voice and looking up they saw the baron, whose name significantly, is Ketschemdorf, excitedly ordering significantly, is Ketsenemon, them away:

That part of the river, he said, belonged to him, and they must go and fish elsewhere.
With the themerity of undergraduates, they declined to move, and defiantly waited for the baron while he stepped into their boat.
A terrific struggle took place here, and when the undergraduates went away they promised to make their assulant suffer for his interference.
The baron, who is a naturalised Englishman of German birth, was fined £1 and costs.

CROWNING THE BARD.

Welshmen Flock to Mountain Ash for the Eisteddfod To-day.

Mountain Ash, the little mining town in Glamorganshire, is to-day the scene of the Welsh people's great annual poetical and bardic festival, great annual postical and bardic festival.

To witness the Gorsedd Proclamation is the dream of every Welshman. The Archdruid, the aged "Hwfa Mon," first conducts an examination of the competitors for musical and poetical honours.
Then some fair singer breaks forth with melody of a Welsh song, brimful of national feeling. The "hwyl" begins to animate the assembly as the dulect notes come forth from the fair throat. It is a magnetic spectacle, a portrayal of a people's particisism.

Thanks to Lord Aberdare, the Gorsedd Proclam-ation will be celebrated this year under the branches of apreading oaks, within a stone's-throw of the mansion called "The Duffryn."

DREAM THAT CAME TRUE.

Strange Prediction of an Audacious Theft by a Black Man.

A startling sequel to a dream has caused considerable sensation at Brixton concerning a daring robbery which was perpetrated in Railton-road.

robbery which was perpetrated in Railton-road.

Mrs. Collins, the young wife of the manager of the Maltina Bread Company's depot, was sitting in her parlour at 78, Railton-road counting out the takings, when she was confronted by a black man who asked for permission to use the telephone. This was granted, but immediately the man attacked her, seizing her by the throat, and she became unconscious. In the meantime the man decamped with £16 in gold.

The curious part of the affair is that some time ago Mrs. Collins had what she describes as a mixed-up dream, in which she thought she was sting at a table counting money when a black man entered. "He fixed his eyes on me," she said, "and I could not move. He picked up the cashbox and then went out, and all the time I could not stir."

GOLD AMID THE ASHES.

Sufferer by the Castlethorpe Fire Finds £20 Sale in the Ruins of His House.

The destruction wrought by the fire which rendered forty inhabitants of the Buckinghamshire rendered forty inhabitants of the Buckinghamshire village of Castlethorpe homeless, became more apparent on Saturday and Sunday.

So quickly did the flames spread that, in at least six cases, the cottagers had scarcely time to save themselves, much less their belongings.

Many of them on Saturday were seeking for their money-boxes amidst the débris. One labourer named Clark was fortunate enough to discover his savings-box containing £20, which represented many years' savings.

A pathetic case was that of a man named Wills, who look one of the cottages only a week before, and now all that is left of his furniture is a cradle and two chairs.

More distressing still was the case of Mrs. Lambert, who had been on a visit to a neighbouring village; when she returned home she found that she had nothing left at all.

THE 'DAILY MIRROR' HOLIDAY RESORT GUIDE tells Where to go-How to get there-Where to stay. Price 3d.

WIVES A HELP OR A HINDRANCE?

Is It Woman's Fault If She Is Not a Help?

SELFISH MEN BLAMED.

Saturday's post brought us large numbers of letters on this interesting topic. Here are some of the most striking views put forward:-

MEN'S SELFISHNESS TO BLAME.

A wife is our help, if we help to make her sobut what are the majority of men? Selfish to the very core.

A young girl marries with an idea-alas, it is only an idea-that her sweetheart will be a sweetheart all his life, but, poor child, how soon she has found out her mistake.

For a few months he comes home at the proper time, and after dinner takes his darling for a walk but after a time his darling is not able to go out.

Does he stop at home with her? Devil a bit. "He can't stand that sort of thing."

"He can't stand that sort of thing."

He has been working all day to support the home. Talking to his friends going up or reading the paper, then out to lunch, chatting most of the day even whilst pretending to work, home by frain meeting friends again, and he is dog-tried. How about his poor little wife—alone, not well, no one to speak to!

So, poor fellow, he must go out—cannot stand being at home all the evening. Then he expects his wife to be a help to him.

Men are selfish pigs as a rule. If they were more considerate to their wives they would find their wives would be a help and comfort to them.

109, Selhurst-road, Selhurst. Hyde Briscoe.

A YOUNG GIRL'S REBUKE.

I cannot but think that your correspondent "Bachelor" has had a very unfortunate and limited acquaintance with women.

My mother has spent her whole married life intended in the interests of my father and us. During my childhood I rarely remember her going anywhere for amusement, and very seldom does she go now. Upon such as her "Bachelor's" letter is a cruel libe!

I should think "Bachelor" must have forgotten hat some woman took care of him in his childhood. Redhill. Seventeen.

HUSBANDS TOO GENEROUS

In reply to those three correspondents who complain that their wives are a hindrance, let them curtail their wives pin-money, so that, having no money to spend for gadding about, paying calls, train fares, lunches, dinners, etc., they would have to stay at home and turn their attention to domestic duties to occupy their time.

I really think the men of to-day are too generous. They seem to give their wives too much money. Let them just do the housekeeping for one week, and after that they will be able to put into their own pockets all the money that is spent in extravagences. They could either place the money to their own accounts at their bankers or spend it-on cigars, wines, etc.

their own accounts at their bankers of spend it-oneigars, wines, etc.

The result of having to ask for every penny would be that, rather than be dependent on a man's generosity, the girls of to-day would remain single, or, if they married, would not entertain any friends, so that there would be no cause for them to neglect their household duties.

Coventry. One Forced to Stay at Home.

A CRY FROM THE HEART

A GRY FROM THE HEART.

I should like to ask: Are husbands a hindrance?

In my case the answer is decidedly "Yes."

I am thirty-five years of age and the mother of eleven children, and to make things worse I have a husband who is seldom at home, and frequently drinks more than is good for him.

I was the youngest of my family, and was married at eighteen. I have two pairs of twins, and I can honestly say I have never had a week's real holiday in my married life.

Which has the best of it in my case, my husband or 1?

A DISILLUSIONED WIFE.

WIVES THEIR HUSBANDS' FRIENDS

In answer to a "Lonely Husband" I should like to say that I believe the woman of to-day is every bit as good as the woman of fifty years ago. If she does not sit at home and sew and cook all day, she certainly is much more of a "friend" to her husband than the girl of fifty years ago was. Social duties have not ousted domestic duties, except in the case of society people.

A HAFFY WIFE OF TO-DAY.

SHARER OF JOYS AND SORROWS.

To my way of thinking no one can say truthfully that a wife is a hindrance.

What else can she be but a comfort, to go to after a long day's work, to share all one's troubles with, as well as one's happiness?

C. R. Harcourt-avenue, Seacombe,

NEWS ITEMS. LAST NIGHT'S

With his Majesty's sanction naval officers are in future to be allowed to wear white shoes with white trousers, weather permitting, and irrespective of climate, both on board ship and ashore.

Despite criticism by certain farmers, who call it the worst-farmed land in the county, the North-umberland County Council has decided to continue its experimental farm.

Twice Mayor of Leicester, and one of the most astute legal advocates in the Midlands, Sir Thomas Wright, who was knighted by Queen Victoria, died in Leicester on Saturday night, aged sixty-Covering an area of over thirty-two acres, London's newest "lung," Springfield Park, Upper Clapton, was formally opened on Saturday by Mr. E. A. Cornwall, Chairman of the London County Council.

After purchasing three blank cheques for six-pence from a customer of the Union Bank at Northampton, Harry Mackman, aged nineteen, filled them up and obtained a gold watch and other valuables from local jewellers. On Saturday he was sentenced to six months', and two of his confederates to six weeks', hard labour. Blackpool postal officials have had to open a branch office specially to deal with the dispatch of picture posteards.

Commenting on the paucity of church collections, the vicar of New Bury, Farnworth, says in his parish magazine: "The offerings are an outrage to reason and fairness and Christian effort."

To-morrow the First Lord of the Treasury is to be asked in the House of Commons whether he will appoint separate. Commissions to inquire into the working of the Poor Law in Scotland and Ireland.

Because she was suspected of supplying information to the Press, the lady who founded the Blackburn Maidens' Club, the members of which eschew corsets and other luxuries, has indignantly resigned her seat on the committee. Two other ladies have also resigned, after one attendance at the club's skipping exercises.

Strict orders were given to the commissionaire at the Bristol Wesleyan Conference to admit no one without a ticket. He accordingly refused admis-sion to the President, who had forgotten his card. When the conference rose Dr. Kelly gave the man a hymn-book, with the autograph inscription, "For conscientious performance of duty."

KING EDWARD'S LUGGAGE AT PORTSMOUTH.

On the quay at Portsmouth after King Edward's arrival from Goodwood on Saturday. The photograph shows his Majesty's personal luggage waiting for removal to the royal yacht.

Rivet makers in the South Staffordshire and North Worcestershire districts came out on strike on Saturday, claiming an advance of 15 per cent.

Mrs. Elizabeth Leach, an octogenarian, who has just given up the White Horse Inn, Barrow, near Chester, obtained her sixty-third licence at the last sessions. She claimed to be the oldest licensee in

For the simple reason that during July there had been no births, and no deaths, in fact, "no hothing," said the medical officer of the Preesall (Lancashire) Urban Council he had nothing to report at the monthly meeting.

Fined by the Newcastle magistrates on Saturday for being in possession of a gaff for salmon-catching, Jane Reay is the first woman ever charged with such an offence on Tyneside. It was alleged in evidence that she poached more salmon than any man on the Tyne.

"With many the idea of a holiday is little more than a grand opportunity for unbridled licence," says the Rev. C. H. Platt, the outspoken vicar of Seacroft (Leeds). "I have heard of more than one case," he adds, "of furniture being sold to provide momey for the annual dissipation at Scarborough."

Upwards of 35,000 homing pigeons belonging to Lancashire and Staffordshire fanciers were liberated at Shrubhill Station at Worcester on Saturday.

To meet the distress in the districts of Chatham and Gillingham occasioned by the continued heavy discharges of men from the dockyard the Unem-ployed Relief Committee have already raised £850.

"I like to see self-sacrifice and patriotism honoured," said Lord Roberts, unveiling a memorial at Darlington on Saturday to the men who fell in South Africa. The freedom of the town was conferred upon him.

Two record shiploads of bananas are due to arrive to-day, one at Manchester of 57,000 bunches from Costa Rica, and the other at Bristol of 45,000 bunches from Jamaica. The first represents the largest cargo of the fruit ever loaded in one steamer at any port in the world.

Strong protest was made by jurymen at an in-quest held on Saturday at Usk, in a remote part of Monmouthshire. They had walked seven miles on roads almost impassable through a heavy rain-storm to view the body, and, therefore, applied for double fees. The coroner said he had no power to grant the request.

CARRY "ANSWERS" on the Beach TO-DAY at Blackpool, Southsea, Margate, Ramsgate, and Yarmouth. It may mean £1 to you, so carry "ANSWERS" wherever you go. . .

CAN YOU SEE YOURSELF?

Eight Half-Guineas To-day for Yarmouth and Blackpool.

LIST OF PRIZE-WINNERS.

Eight half-guineas go to Yarmouth and Blacks pool to-day.

Look on page 9, and you will see groups of holiday-makers at these popular resorts. Can you see yourself in either?

If you can you may win half a guinea.

This is what you have to do. Examine the Yarmouth and Blackpool pictures, and if you are one of the persons in either photograph mark yourself with a cross, write your name and address on the space provided below the group, and send, in an envelope, to the Competition Editor, Daily Mirror, 12, Whitefriars-street, London, E.C. Half a guinea will be forwarded to you if you are one of the four persons we have selected.

The Editor's decision in all cases is final

Our photographers are taking snapshots of holiday crowds to-day at BROADSTAIRS and WHITBY.

These pictures will be published in to-morrow's Daily Mirror, and prizes of half a guinea each will be awarded to four selected persons in the group at Whitby and four at Broadstairs.

Photographs of crowds will be taken at nearly all the big seaside resorts, including Aberystwyth.

Bournemouth.
Bridlington.
Brighton.
Clacton.
Clethorpes.
Cromer.
Dçal.
Dover.
Eastbourne.
Felixstowe.

Filey.
Fleetwood.
Folkestone.
Hasting's and St.
Leonards.
Hunstanton.
Ilfracombe.
Lowestoft.
Morecambe.
Ramsgate.

Skegness, Southport, Southsea, Southwold, St. Anne's, Weston-super-Mare, Weymouth, Worthing,

The prize-winners, to each of whom 10s. 6d. has been sent, in the competitions at Scarborough and Whitstable are as follows :-

SCARBOROUGH.

Miss Ethel L. Higgs, 26, Ashville-avenue, Scarborough.

Miss Amy Fisher, Bishopton, Ripon.

Miss Myra R. Keddell, 26, Ashville-avenue, Scar-borough.

Miss Elsie Fenwick, 44, Norwood-street, Scar-borough.

WHITSTABLE.

Miss C. Putwain, 70, Victoria-street, Whitstable. Ernest Nolan, Ithiel, Kent-street, Whitstable. G. W. Rowden, 4, Island Wall, Whitstable. A. E. Willson, 12, Gladstone-road, Whitstable.

BUSY RIVER SEASON.

Thames-Side Houses All Let Owing to Absence of Floods This Year.

Father Thames is again returning into favour. There is hardly a furnished-riverside house to let

This boom is partly owing to the low state of the river now prevailing. Ladies can punt with ease and comfort as there is no stream to speak of. "For the last three years," said Messrs. Giddy and Giddy, on Saturday, "the river has been shunned owing to the terrible floods," The old adage—

In summer your lawn is on the river, and in winter the river is on your lawn

-became

All the year round the river is on your lawn. Now at last ideal conditions have returned, and all the riverside interests are flourishing.

As the Stock Exchange was closed on Saturday our usual City article does not appear in to-day's issue.

-DON'T FAIL-'The Daily Report' On Sale Everywhere. 2d.

IT WILL PAY YOU.

NOTICE TO READERS.

The Editorial, Advertising, and General Business 12, WHITEFRIARS-STREET. LONDON, E.C.

Telephones: 1310 and 2190 Holborn.
Telegraphic Address: "Reflowed," London.
Paris Office: 3, Place de la Madeleine.

Daily Mirror

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY MAKES JILL A DULL GIRL!

BOUT this time of year there appears a little brown moth known as the Vapourer. You see him flitting about in the sunshine as well as at dusk, a gay, irresponsible wanderer, without a care or (i would seem) a tie in the world.

Those who know anything about moths. however, are better acquainted with the Vapourer's circumstances. The females of the Vapourer species are wingless. They cannot flutter about after their husbands. They pass their whole lives in some dark, out-of-the-way corner, laying their eggs there, and knowing nothing of the world but the gloomy little bit of it in which they are doomed to pass their corner, laying their eggs there, and knowing nothing of the world but the gloomy little bit of it in which they are doomed to pass their existence.

The Vapourer can only pass for a bachelor, leading a free, untrammelled life, by reason of his wife's inability to share his pleasures and fly around with him, seeing the world and laving a good time.

Isn't there a type of human which closely corresponds to this little moth of late summer? Don't we see numbers of Vapourers about at this holiday season? You cannot tell them at sight so easily as you can the little brown moth, but they are to be found at every seaside place, at all holiday resorts, in fact.

They are enjoying themselves vastly, while their wives, like Mrs. Vapourer, are left at home to sigh after green fields and yellow sands and blue seas flecked with white foam, and to wonder why Fate (in the form of a husband) is treating them so unkindly.

How many men are starting off this morning on some Bank Holiday jaunt without a thought of their wives, to whom the day is to be just like any other day, a round of domestic duties, necessary but not exciting, looking after the children, making the house look nice, seeing that all the machinery of Home works smoothly and that things are made comfortable for the absent one.

Men who work all day and every day in office or workshop or factory, and need holidays every now and then, often think that women's life is one long holiday. "Why, they're at home all the time. Never need do more than they want to. Able to get out as much and sometimes even more. Many women, who are attending to their homes and bringing up their children, lead painfully monotonous lives. Their husbands have companionship at their work. All sorts of things happen in the course of it. It is their own fault if they don't keep their minds active, their intelligence bright.

Women very often see no one they really care to talk to from one week's end to another. They feel sometimes as if they were shut out from the great world altogether. In the

One sees it in England, too—sometimes, not often enough.

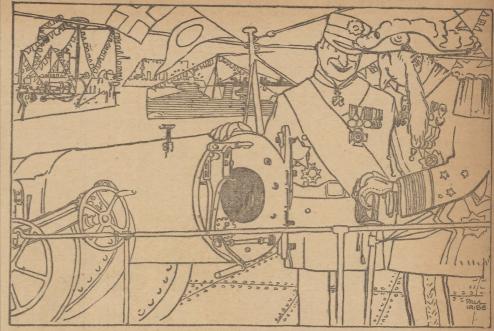

In the highest ranks of society, women take good care to stand upon their rights. There, when a wife is neglected, it is her own fault. If the women of the other ranks could only gain this healthy independence, without picking up the unlovely qualities which frequently go with it, they would benefit themselves and the community as well.

F.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Monday religion is better than Sunday proession.—Old Proverb.

A FRENCH VIEW OF THE PORTSMOUTH ENTENTE CORDIALE.

ERITISH ADMIRAL (to French Admiral): And to think, my dear friend, that we made all these big guns for peace purposes!-From "Le Rire" (Paris).

THIS MORNING'S GOSSIP.

T will have been a very long time since there were so many royalties present at Cowes for the Royal Yacht Squadron regatta week Amongst those who have already arrived are the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and Princess King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and Princess Victoria and Albert; the Duke and Duchess of Convictoria and Albort; the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, with Prince Arthur and Princess Patricia of Connaught; and Princess Christian and her daughter, Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, who are staying at Osborne Cottage with Princess Henry of Battenberg.

Lady Gott has a large party at East Cowes Castle, and at the Gloucester Hotel will be found. Prince and Princess Batthyany, Captain Richard and Mrs. Charteris, and one or two others who always go to this popular hotel. The Dowager Lady Cardigan is one again present, and Lord and Lady Harrington are staying with the Dowager Lady Harrington. The Marquis de Soveral and Count Albert Mensdorff are, as usual; on the royal yearth; but the latter is entertaining, with Barom Eckhardstein on the latter's yeacht.

* * * *

Nearly all the best known members of the Royal Yacht Squadron have arrived, but Mr. Montagu Guest will be very much missed, as he made up his mind some time ago not to go to Cowes this year. However, there will be found Lord Ormonde, the Duke of Leeds, Lord Langattock, Sir Allen Young, Sir John. Burgoyne, Lord Valletort, Lord Lonsdale, Lord Crawford (whose yacht, the Valhalla, is Jving in the Cowes Roads), Mr. Philip Peroval, Mr. Forbes Leigh, Mr. Goddrey Baring, Captain "Doddy" John Johnstone (the brother of Sir Frederick Johnstone), Mr. Winn, Mr. de Sails, and, in all probability, the Duke of Sutherland.

* * * *

The rumour that the Duke and Duchess of Fife are about to sell their pretty Richmond seat, Sheen Lodge, is certainly surprising, because the place has always been extremely convenient to them as a "week-end" retreat when they happen to be in London. East Sheen is, besides, a comparatively secluded place, and both the Duke and Duchess value quiet above all things. It is worth recalling, by the way, that the Duke sold his Innes House estate, in Elginshire, which comprises about 12,000 acres for Mr. Mackenzie, the well-known distiller, some swelew years ago.

was told to provide a key for this part of the build-ing, and she wrote a label for it. When the Duke, a few days later, examined the label he discovered this sinister legend upon it: "The dead uns "! The housekeeper evidently thought that the passage was provided for the bodies of those who perished in the cruel sport.

To-day is to be an unusually eventful Bank Holiday, marked by the arrival of the French fleet at Cowes. London is atways a half-deserted place of an August holiday, but plenty of interesting events are to take place in the country. Sir George Kekewioh is amongst those who are to fulfi political, engagements, and he is to speak at a garden-party at South Woodford flus eventing. Sir George is a most amusing speaker. Some time ago I remember hearing his discourse upon Mr. Balfour's Government—what it had been expected to be and what it turaed out in fact. * *

He had imagined that after the late Lord Salisbury's death the new Cabinet would be composed of self- and respectable people. Adopting an equine metaphor he said he had expected "crocks"—like the animals provided for our soldiers in the Transval—but now discovered the Government to be composed of "umbroken-cots," who would certainly upset the cart they pulled before long. Sir George is a great authority on education, and was for years secretary to the Education Department. Nevertheless he admits that he followed sport rather than learning in his own early days at Eton ment. Nevertheless he admits that he followed sport rather than learning in his own early days at Eton and Oxford. * * *

The story of how he left Oxford is amusing. He was at Balliol and rose there to the highest eminence as an oarsman and a racket-player. But he had no taste for chapel, and, during his last term, never oace put in an attendance. The result was that the Dons sent him down for three days. This annoyed him so much that he shook the dust of Oxford forever off his feet, withdrew his "caution" money, which amounted to £20, off the college books, and went to spend it in feasting in London. Thus the returned to his parents, like the Prodigal Son, repentant, and without having taken a degree.

walte quiet above all things. It is worth recalling, by the way, that the Duke sold his lines House estate, in Eligiachire, which comprises about 12,000 acres for Mr. Mackenzie, the well-known distiller, some series years ago.

Another great advantage about Sheen Lodge is its elaborate tennis court, in which nearly all the celebrities fine England have played the anisering ame. A comic story used to be told, about a former housekeeper of the Duke of Fifte, whose duty it was to label all the keys of the tennis court buildings. The narrow passage where spectators stand to watch the game has a French name. It is called the "Dedans." The worthy housekeeper of the stand to watch the game has a French name. It is called the "Dedans." The worthy housekeeper of the worth house of the worth worth house of the worth Sudermann is one of the contemporary author who have risen out of the direst poverty to success For some time, when he was writing his firs novels, his publishers had to advance him mode in order that he might keep body and soul togethet He had also to support his mother, for whom h had an extraordinary devotion, as one can discern with little difficulty, in his finest novel, "Fra Sorge." I am told that nearly everybody in Berli claims, now that Sudermann is famous and successful, to have helped him in those days of trial But he seems to think himself that he was the sufficiently friendless and alone.

TWO MEN OF THE MOMENT

Admirals Wilson and Caillard.

HEY meet to-day at Cowes in sight of th most illustrious assemblage that the little and memorable meeting this of the navies of tw nations "proud in arms" and so rarely at peac with one another in the past.

The two admirals are French and English, it i true, but they are both sailors, and the community of profession ought to make up for the difference of profession ought to make up for the differenc in race.

All brave sailors, after all, are made of the sam stuff. About each of these similar stories of brave are told.

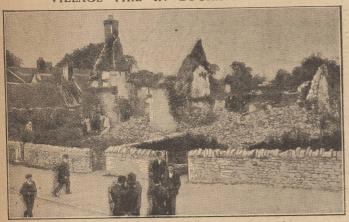

When Admiral Wilson was serving during the wain Egypt he risked his life by a reckless an single-handed attack upon five derrishes. His sword broke at the first onset. He was wounded it three places. But he fought on, struck his assainants down, one after another, with his fist, an came off triumphantly victorious.

When Admiral Caillard was defending Pari against the Prussians in 1870 he was the hero of stimilar incident. He took part in a desperat sortie from the city, fought on though covered wit wounds, and remained, when all his men had retreated, half-dead on the blood-stained snow. He was rescued just in time, and fils life pre served for us to do him honour to-day, in retur for his gallant reception of our men last month a Brest.

NEWS VIEWS

VILLAGE FIRE IN BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

Photograph taken after the disastrous fire at Castlethorpe, a pretty old-world village in North Buckinghamshire. Thirteen houses were destroyed before the fire could be controlled, as well as numerous outbuildings.

Sifting the ashes after the fire at Castlethorpe. Altogether a considerable amount of money was in the burnt-out cottages, as well as other valuables, and it was in the hope of recovering whatever had resisted the flames that the ashes were carefully examined.

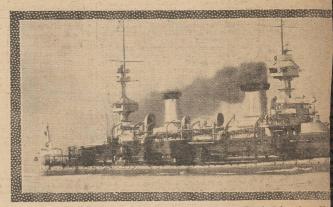

Such furniture as could be saved from the cottages burned down at Castlethorpe was all heaped together in one spot. It was pathetic afterwards to see those who had lost their homes trying to discover something at least of their own in the heterogeneous collection of household furniture and utensils.

ALL THE NEWS

FRENCH NORTHERN SQUADRON AR

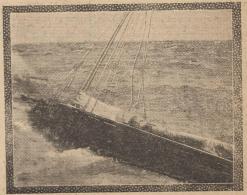

French bluejackets embarking to rejoin the Northern Squadron which arrives at Portsmoway of the visit of the British Fleet to Brest has aroused the greatest enthusiasm among the nearly meaning the property of the British Fleet to Brest has a roused the greatest enthusiasm among the meaning the same of the property of French battleship Messina, flagship of the fleet which arrives at Portsmouth to-day. She Caillard, who commanded the squadron which welcomed the British Atlan

WORK OF THE WAVES AT SOUTHEND.

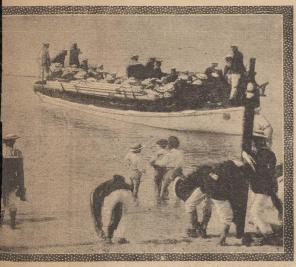

Southend has been experiencing unusually rough seas. At one time the new marine drive was submerged, and the yacht shown in our photograph was not the only one that got into difficulties.

The British b

PHOTOGRAPHS

VES AT PORTSMOUTH TO-DAY.

th to-day on a formal visit to celebrate the "entente cordiale." The success in every rench sailors, and the Portsmouth festivities have been anticipated with the keenest ies the flag of Vice-Admiral Fleet at Brest.

Group of typical French bluejackets on board the battleship Jauréguiberry.

BARQUE WRECKED NEAR PENZANCE.

e Noisiel, bound from Cherbourg for Savona, wrecked near Prussia Cove, six miles wo of her crew were drowned, but seven others were safely landed by means of the transparent of the waves.

CAMERAGRAPHS

S YOUR PORTRAIT IN THESE GROUPS?

Mana

Address

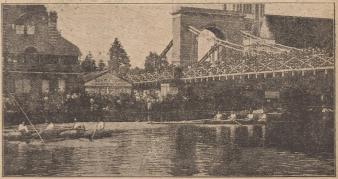

Name

Address

If you appear in either of these photographs mark your portrait distinctly with an X and write your name and address plainly in the space provided beneath the picture. Then send it in to the Daily Mirror, and if you are one of the four people we have selected in each group you will receive half a guinea. The upper group was photographed at Blackpool and the lower one at Yarmouth. Full particulars of this competition will be found on page 6.

RACING AT MARLOW REGATTA ON SATURDAY.

London Rowing Club winning the Grand Challenge Cup in the fours. The Reading R.C. were redoubtable antagonists, but the London men, who were the holders of the cup, got away smartly, and won by a length and a quarter.

IN HOLIDAY MOOD.

Humour from All Lands Readers Free from Care.

Motorist : Are all the tools in the tool-chest?

Are all the cushions and lap-robes in the ton-

"Is the tank full of petrol?"

"Yes, sir."
"Have you brought down all our goggles?"
"Yes, sir."
"Yes, sir."

"Well, run up to my room and bring down the roll of bank-notes out of the top bureau drawer, so that we will have enough money to pay our fines. Then we shall be ready to start."—"American Grocer."

Sir: Your wife is held by us for ransom. She will be detained until you deposit ten thousand dollars under the oak tree at the top of the hill.

The Black Hand.

The Black Hand.

II. The Black Hand.

II. The Black Hand.

I have deposited under the oak tree a trunk containing the rest of my wife's wardrobe.—Yours truly.

J. B. Henpedt.

"Meggendorfer Blatter" (German).

There was a little dog who ran away.
"What do you do that for?" asked his owner.
"Because you don't make home pleasant for me," replied the little dog.
And so his owner beat him once again, this time within an inch of his life.
"But the astonishing thing about it," said the owner, afterwards, "is that that little dog—he run away ag'in!"—"Life." (America).

A missionary in India employed a Hindoo to assist in translating the hymn

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee" into the vernacutar. His surprise may be imagined when he read the first two lines—

"Very old stone, split for my benefit, Let me get under one of your fragments."

—"Delineator."

. Teacher: What is the meaning of the word

Scholar: To hotlow out.

Teacher: Give me a sentence in which the word is properly used.

Second Scholar: The small boy excavates when the teacher licks him.—"Windsor Magazine."

Mrs. Grogan: Keegan and his wife had a fierce scrao.

Mrs. Hogan: An' did they separate?

Mrs. Grogan: They did; but Keegan was most dead before th' cops could get th' twisters on Mrs. Keegan an' separate thim!—"Puck."

He: I presume you carry a memento of some kind in that locket of yours?

She: Precisely. It is a lock of my husband's

He: But your husband is still alive.

She: But his hair is all gone.—"Journal

Amusant."

First Russian: Say, old man! Second Russian: Well, what is it? "Have you an extra bomb in your pocket?" I lek mine in my other clothes."—"Smart Set."

Little Brother: Where did the baby come from Nurse: From Meaven, Master Jack.

Little Brother: I thought everyone sang beautifully in Heaven. I call that caterwauling.—"Ulk

FOOD AT THE SEASIDE.

The Troubles of Materfamilias with Holiday Tradesmen and Cooks.

Seaside food is such as can be found nowhere except at the seaside.

The maritime butcher has a way peculiar to himself of cutting, or, rather, of rending asunder himself of cuting, or, rather, of rending asunder, the meat. The method is known to none except those of his race. He can always supply any joint except the one required.

As a rule he is blamed for supplying inferior meat. But the cook is, as often as not, the one to blame. A steak appears, tough as leather, of a purple hue. The landthady is sent for and "spoken to." She naturally transfers the blame to the butcher. He suffers accordingly.

Vegetables and fruit are not as, good as they might be, and there is but little wanety of either. Fruit seems to dwindle and wither, in the sea, and—'tis often like the Dead Sea apple, "dust, and ashes."

ashes."
Fish at the seaside is remarkably scarce. This deficiency can be traced, buck to Homeric times. Homer did not represent the Greeks as a fish eating race, although they lived by the sea, and were a thoroughly maritime people. This seems quite natural if the fish supply on the coast in ancient times was as it is at our modern seaside resorts. Who knows not the maritime pastrycook? His cakes are stodgy and his jam puffs are not infrequently devoid of all trace of jam. Yet what a find he is to materfamilias when the lodging-house gorgon turns sulky and steadfastly refuses to cook any pud-ding! Then does materfamilias raid the pastry-cook's counter, and carry off to her starving little ones a large supply of the jamless pulls, fron-hearted buns, and other dainties of an archgological nature.

They enjoy them, and, if they are still unsatis-fied, there is always the sweetstuff merchant on the beach, whose hardbake, toffee, and chocolate are warranted to cloy the sharpest appetite.

THROUGH THE "MIRROR."

More Cpinions on Cruel Sport and Why Do Men Shave?

I have read with amazement the letters signed "Warnford Court" and "A Hunting Rector." You style one or both "A Hunting Man's "Ingenious Defence of "Cruef Sport." I should feel inclined to substitute the word ingenuous for in-feel inclined to substitute the word ingenuous for ingenious.

As regards "Warnford Court," if his letter can be taken seriously at all, it means that because chasing and killing animals, with more or less of barbarous crutelty, conductes to his health and pleasare, therefore it is right.

Is he so peculiarly constituted, or pitifully defricient in the inventive faculty that he cannot devise some other kind of outdoor recreation? Or does he admit that it is the sheer love of killing that does him so much good?

"A Hunting Rector" is, if anything, more coldblooded in his remarks. He does not consider the animals for one moment, He evidently admits that our cruel sports are degrange, but because they are not so degrading as bull-fighting they are quite all right.

How differently thought Wordsworth when he sang:

sang:

"Never to blend our pleasure or our pride with sorrow of the meanest thing that feels."

SEDNEY WEETMAN.

8, Leinster-square, Bayswater, W.

Very little danger is run by any of the performers in a bull-light. The "picador's" limbs are completely protected against the bull's horse.

The miserable horse, an aged, tottering screw, blindfolded that he may not see and evade the charge, gets the full force of it, and is commonly disembowelled.

The matador who finishes the bull does sometimes run evert risk but as a rule he does not times run great risk, but as a rule he does not venture to tackle the bull until the latter has been times run great risk, but as a rule he dues noventure to tackle the bull until the latter has been tortured into exhaustion.

From first to last the bull has no chance for his life, and the essence of all true sport is that the animal husted shall have a good chance for its life. I quite agree with "?" that hare coussing, pigeon shooting, etc., are not sport, for that very reason. But "F" should remember that far more riders are killed and injured in the hunting field in England every year than are killed in the bull ring. So far as danger goes, the Englishman can samile at the preferasions of the matador.

Villa Malibran, St. Splvestre, Nice.

BOARD SCHOOLS AND BAD MANNERS.

In the Board Schools to day the children are taught subjects for, I should say, parts of subjects) which are absolutely no use to them, but how many can write decently or compose and punctuate a can write decently or compose and punctuate, a letter properly?

Grammar, handwriting, and spelling appear to be utterly neglected, and it is no wonder whee they try to crowd such subjects as French, algebra, Euclid, chemistry, and physics into their heads.

Is it, possible, that children can learn paywards of fifteen subjects properly?

As to their manners, as your correspondent Mr. Bailey remarked, they have none, but no doubt this is more the parents' fault than the teachers!

Scarborough.

GEORGE J. R.

WHY DO MEN SHAVE?

"Work DO MEN SHAVE?"
"Worthing" evidently thinks that a man's strength, like Samson's, lies in his hair. I fail to see why a man possessing a beard or moustacke should be any more manly than he who prefers to go clean-shaven.

I am a close student of character, and I think it a great pity that so many men with good strong mouths and chins should cover the same with ranged beards or straggly moustaches.

On the other hand, men with ugly lips, receding chins, etc., had better cover them up.

chins, etc., had better cover them up.
HAROLD PALMER.

143, Brookdale-road, Catfor

"Worthing's" letter in your issue of to day must have been a source of amusement to many of your numerous readers.

If is truly feminine in its somewhat sweeping remarks, and audacious indeed must she be who can disbarr such men as Napoleon, Nelson, Wellington, etc., etc., from entering the portals of manhood.

Even at the risk of being considered effeminate and degenerated, I must sign myself

CLEAN-SHAVEN.

St. Leonards, Bury-road, Gosport,

ONE FALSE STEP.

By HENRY FARMER.

CHARACTERS IN THE STORY.

FRANK CMESTER.—A young man who comes to London after a University career. He is to be given a start in commercial life by the great Vincent Devenish—the chance of a lifetime. His one false step is the removal from Devenish's jubble of some hanknets with the lifetime of the chance of a lifetime. His one false step is the removal from Devenish's jubble of some hanknets with the lifetime of the lif memory, by some worknen. He has now to fin Liverpool.

QUEENIE MAYFIELD.—Tom's sister. An orphan She has started in business as a florist and table has started in business as a florist and table has a started in business.

place. In the course of an experience of an entry hereaft, and cuts herself.

DEXYER.—The obsequence, only eachier in the office of DEXYER.—The obsequence of the first power, owing to the first power of the first power of

DAINTREE.—The young widowed daughter of incent Devenish, and heir to his wealth. Considered as a possible wife for Chestoe. PER MORDAUNT.—Stockbroker, by whom Tomlayfield is employed. Close friends with Dexter

CHAPTER XXXIV. (Continued).

Eve was without, and within the room Cecil Daintree, lying on the far side of the table, the senses knocked out of his body. Chester's one thought was to prevent Eve's entrance into the room.

But, for all his swift movement to the door, he was too late. Eve entered, her face white and cold as marble. She cast a quick glance round the room, seeming to be searching for someone. She had heard voices as she crossed the hall.

Chester stretched out his arms to bar her further progress into the room.

Chester stretched out his arms to bar her further progress into the room.

"Please go," he whispered hoarsety. "It's an unpleasant business—a drunken man."

He scarcely knew what he was saying.

"Witcre is he?" Eve's voice was utterly devoid of inflection. "Where is he? The man whose voice I heard just now."

Chester went up to her; circled an arm round her waist, and would have led her from the room. But she freed herself from his encircling arm, and before he could prevent her, had passed to the far side of whe table where Cesel Dantret say. He had rolled over on to his back. The light of an electric lamp played on his face as his swolles eyelids twitched under the influence of returning consciousness.

twitched under the influence of returning consciousness.

Eve reached out her hands, and, as she stared down at the deprawed features, looked like a woman crucified. No sound left her white lips, but a great shiver swept her from head to foot. She was crucified on a cross of the past. For a moment Chester turned away his head, unable to endure the sight. There was no sound but the drunken man's steetorous breathing. His eyes were opening.

It was Eve who hroke the silence.

"You realise?" she whispered, scarcely moving her lips.

her lips.

Then she reached out her lands gropingly.

"This—this will kill me!"

She drove her hands into her bosom. Chester lacked the words to comfort her. Daintree might emerge at any moreast from the library. Something must be done where the man was concerned. He was capable of anything in his present condition.

Eve," said Chester at last, "you must go.

"Eve," said Chester at last, "you must go. I am wanted in the library."

"But what can you do?"

"But what can you do?"

The question summed the whole situation. There seemed nothing to be done but bow the head to the inevitable. It was conceivable that a man of Daintree's degradation would do anything short of committing suicide if he were paid sufficiently well; but the hard fact remained that he was Eve's husband come to life within a few days of her marriage to another man. But one thing worse could have happened—his resurrection after Eve's marriage.

Eve's marriage.

Eve held out her hand to Chester. Her eyes were dry; her features rigid and white as marble.

"I shall be in the drawing room," she whis pered, and glided away like a beautiful, white pered, and glided away like a beautiful, white ghost.

Alone in the great room, she linked her hands together and moaned. Her proud spirit had been humiliated, and her dream of future happiness shattered. Just when it seemed that the past was about to be atoned for, when love had been reborn and happiness stood on the threshold beckoning her to follow, this hideous caricature of the man that once was had entered her life!

It would be possible; perhaps, to obsain a separation, if not a divorce? from this man; but thought of publicity and the dragging into light of wretched and unsavoury defails to be gloated over by a puriour-minded public was enough to make the woman's soul shudder.

It meant that all was over between her and the man who had won her love. The cup had been dashed from her lips. She scarcely dared contemplate the effect of the news on her father.

Cecil Daintree had risen to his feet, and was goning to make the woman such that the way to be the contemplate the effect of the news on her father.

(Continued on page 11.)

THE CHARING CROSS BANK. Est. 1870.

119 and 126, Bithopsgatest, Within, E.C.; London.

Banches at Manchester, Livernol, Bradford, Leefa,
Branches at Manchester, Livernol, Bradford, Leefa,
Branches at Manchester, Livernol, Bradford, Leefa,
Bradton, Bradford, Bradford, Livernol, Bradford, Salling, 872(21)2, 291.

Social 24, per cent, allowed on current account balances. Doroste of 410 or upwards received as underSubject to 3 manths' nolice of withdraws' 5 pc. per ann.

2, control of the control o

DON'T LOOK OLD!

KEEP YOUR SITUATIONS.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER. DARKENS IN A FEW DAYS.

le £10 los. Cycle for Cash. 24 15. 2 Brakes, carriage paid, Cycles from £210s. Sample £42 Motor Cycle, £20. List Free. DEREBAN ROAD CYCLE CO. NORWICH

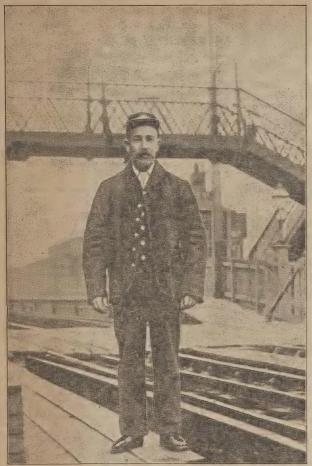

D.D.

The Bishopsgate Distillery and Wine Co. 0.0.

DIRTY DICK'S

48-49, BISHOPSGATE ST. WITHOUT, E.C. Nearly opp. Suburban Entrance G.E.R. Station. FAMOUS OLD PORT WINE AND SPIRIT HOUSE. Noted for Good Value, Purity, and Low Priest. White And Superior of Good Value, Purity, and Low Priest, of Gollion. Facelity are in Town of Court, or Gollion. Facelity and Superior Court of Court o

SIGNALMAN'S FATAL MISTAKE.

Signalman W. Boote, who has accepted the responsibility for the electric train disaster near Liverpool. In a manly letter to the coroner he explained how he made the mistake which led to the accident. The signalman has received a letter from the Rev. Thomas Waugh, father of one of the victims of his error, assuring him of forgiveness and sympathy.

BATSMAN'S DISPLAY.

S: M. J. Woods gave a brilliant display in the Somerset v. Sussex match at Bath. He scored 125 runs in two hours without giving a chance.

COTTER IN FORM.

A. Cotter, the Australian fast bowler, met with marked success in the match against Worcestershire. He took twelve wickets for 34 runs.

ONE FALSE STEP.

(Continued from page 10.)

supporting himself with both hands on the table when Chester entered the library. "Keep your distance," he muttered thickly, pressing a tremulous hand to the lump on his fore-pressing a fremulous hand to the lump on his forehead.

"You drunken hound," cried Chester fiercely.
"You ought to have died years ago!"
The picture of Eve as she glided across the hall like a ghost was before his eyes. He was all but beside himself with fury. Something was wrong altogether with the ordering of these things! This brute, who had drunk away every sense but a taste for liquor, was unfit for a place on God's carth.
But it was waste of time to rail at him.
"What is jut you want? Money? If so, how much? What is your price to quit the country, and drink yourself to death at all possible speed?"
"Supposing—supposing it's Eve I want?"
The veins knotted on the backs of Chester's hands. It was his first experience of a desire to take human life.
"Mention her name again," he quivered, "and I'll throttle the life out of, you. Now state your terms!"

to him and shook him, in order to keep him awake.

"Who offered you a passage abroad and a big sum down on the other side of the water?"

Daintree's chin sank on to his chest.

"Don't worty me, old chap—I'm sleepy—some other time."

Chester jerked him up bodily to his feet.

"Answer my question—who offered you a passage abroad and a big sum down on the other side?"

Daintree's kness gave way under him. He Side? Daintree's knees gave way under him. He seemed rapidly lapsing into a drunken stupor. But Chester had him up again on his feet before his knees touched the floor.

"Answer me—answer me—answer me."
He punctuated his words with violent shakes. The man blinked at him stupidly.

"What was I saying?"
Again Chester repeated the question.

"Oh—who was it?—Why, Dexter, of course."
Chester relaxed his hold. Daintree stumbled back into the chair, and a moment later was in a drunken stupor.

"Dexter?"
Chester echoed the name dully as he crushed his forehead between his hands.
"Dexter?"
He was still asking himself a question, but for some seconds his brain refused to act; but it came at last, like a flash of blinding light, "illuminating fercely all the obscure and mysterious corners of

"Enough to—to keep me going comfortably for the rest of my life. Look here, I could have made terms for myself elsewhere if I had liked—but I jibbed at the last moment—it was a bit too thick."

His utterance was so slurred that Chester had some difficulty in following him.

"In fact—I had made terms—but I've got something of a conscience left—I found myself jibbing.
—I was offered a passage abroad and a big sim down on the other side of the water—if I turned up on your wedding-day—after the knot was tied—so you've something to thank me for, Mr. Chester;

Daintree lurched from the table and ank into an easy-chair. He looked like 'dropping off into a drunken sleep, and seemed to have forgotten where he was and the subject of his conversation.

Chester could scarcely decide whether the man's utterances were irresponsible or not. He went up planned. He had paid her back for her contempt and scorn; had bowed her proud head with humiliation, and broken her heart. Chester snatched his hands from his forehead. The stertorous breathing, coming from the armchair, reminded him of Daintree's presence—Dexter's other tool.

There had been no need for Dexter to apply the screw. Chester had done precisely what had been required of him. All this was clear to the the screw. Chester had done precisely what had been required of him. All this was clear to the latter now.

What was he to do? Go to Eve and tell her all, tell her of his own accursed folly as well as of Dexter's diabolical plot?

His agony of mind was extreme as he paced to and fro in the great room. Even Dexter was subordinated to his thoughts of Eve.

What was to be done? Pay Daintree his price, and he would go abroad, and drink himself to death in due course. If this were done discreetly the world need be none the wiser. The engagement must be broken off, and some plausible excuse made. The truth might be smothered up, and Eve spared the additional humiliation of publicity; nevertheless, Dexter had got his knife home.

Chester still strode the room. It was a question how to spare Eve as much as possible. Was there ground for divorce, and would Eve consent to divorce her husband? He did not know. And Vincent Devenish, he must be told.

Chester was trying to compel himself to take a matter-of-fact view of the situation, trying to argue it all out from an impresonal point of view.

Twice he made his way towards the door, only to turn back and pace the room again. Someone knocked presently on the door. He opened it, barely a couple of inches. It was a footman, who asked if his services were likely to be needed further that night. Chester told the man to go to bed.

When dawn broke Chester still paced the library, and the drunkard still slept like a log in the armehair.

And Eve was alone in the great reception-room.

And Eve was alone in the great reception-room.

(Continued on page 13.)

AN INTERESTING CONVERSATION WITH A COLONEL.

"How did I get rid of my lameness? Why, it was in this way. You know I suffered for years more or less from pain and swelling in the joints at times, gouty eczema, stiffness, etc., and I used to go in for treatment once or twice a year to Harrogate. Carlsbad, or one of those places, without much benefit. Last summer I thought I would try Buxton again. I had been there about a week, when, after trying to play a few holes at golf one morning, I went into the clubhouse to lunch. Soon after, my old friend, Colonel ---, came in, and after shaking hands we sat down together. He seemed very fit, and I said to him, 'Buxton or something seems to have made a marvellous change in you; you used to walk with a stick, and now you go along like a young man.'

"'No,' he said, 'it isn't Buxton; it's a remedy I saw advertised in the papers, called "Bishop's Variateties," and you can see yourself the results they have produced in me. I can walk well; play a round at golf, feel years younger now that I am able to take proper exercise, and, in fact, they have done more for me than all the mineral waters put treather.

done more for me than all the mineral waters put together."

"They certainly seem to have worked wonders in your case, but though, of course, I've seen them advertised I have never tried them myself. Did you take them on your own account?

"Not exactly; but as none of the other treatments I had tried did much good I asked my doctor if there was any harm in my taking them, and he said, "No, do so by all means," and the result you can now see."

"I's really remarkable, and I really must try them, as they seem to have done so much for you."
"You can't do better! They are very pleasant to take, and very casily carried in the waistcoat pocket. See, I just drop one into my whisky-and-water (although any other liquid would do as well) and it converts it into a pleasant, sparkling drink I'll put one into yours, if I may, and you will be beginning the treatment at once. You can buy some at the chemist's as you go home. The, best way is to get a 5s. box, which will last twenty-five days. You may have to buy two or three of these, as you cannot expect to get rid in a few days of goult symptoms that you have had more or less for years."

"Thanks very much for the information. If I improve on the treatment in the same way as you have I don't care how long I have to continue them."

GOOD ADVICE FOR YOU

GOOD ADVICE FOR YOU

Do not allow yourself to suffer from any form of uric acid trouble, as all ailments of this group are preventible. When the first symptoms appear further trouble may be averted if Bishop's Varalette treatment is adopted. The following are the early signs of uric acid trouble, and if they are yours you should at once commence with Bishop's Varalettes, as their value is absolutely indisputable. The excess of uric acid in the system, which causes gout, rheumatism, gravel stone, sciatica, lumbago, and acidity, manifests itself by irritation between the fingers, the palms of the hands, or about the ankles and feet, a sensation of burning in the skin, though without redness, small concretions on the outer rim of the ear, and little lumps under the skin on arm, breast, or legs. Other signs are acidity, heartburn, or flatuence, torpid liver, with aching in the right side, or the passing of small red grains of uric acid. Feelings of stiffness in the joints and muscles, slight difficulty, in bending them, tenderness also both to touch and on movement, and enlargement of the joints are all Nature's fingerposts pointing towards some uric acid malady. If some one or two of these-symptoms are yours, adopt Bishop's Varalette treatment immediately.

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS

Lieutenant-Colonel Edward Clarke, Beachfortroad, East Sheen, writes: "I have been in the habit of using Bishop's Varalettes for some time, and I find them the best corrective for gout I know of, I have suffered great inconvenience in the past from this malady, but since I have used Bishop's Varalettes I have been but seldom troubled. I was through the Egyptian Campaign, and during the whole time I used Bishop's preparations and found them of great value. I always take one of Bishop's Varalettes in my whitsky-and-water, and I find them most convenient and portable."

A Colonel in H.M. Army says: "A year ago I suffered very much from gravel, and regularly every two months endured untold torture, and twice was seriously ill in consequence. I saw your advertisement, got some Bishop's Varalettes, and from that day to this have never suffered the slightest pain, had a suspicion of gravel, or anything else. I have now taken them three times a day (one after each meal) for a year."

BISHOP'S VARALETTES (Regd.)

BIEMOP'S VARALETTES (Regd.) are supplied by all Chemists and Drug Stores in vials at 1s. and 2s., and in boxes containing twenty-five days' treatment at 8s., or by Alfred Bishop, Ltd., Spelman-street, Mile End New Town, London, for 1s. 1d., 2s. 4d., and 5s. 2d., post free anywhere within the United Kingdom. With every vial is enclosed a leaflet regarding diet, etc., in all uric acid troubles, which you will find of great interest. Any further information you may require Messrs. Alfred Bishop, Ltd., will be pleased to supply if you will write them.

SOVEREIGNS GIVEN AWAY

TO-DAY at

BLACKPOOL, SOUTHSEA, MARGATE, YARMOUTH, RAMSGATE,

___ ТО ___

"Answers"

Carriers. All you have to do, if you are at any of these places, is to carry "Answers" in your hand. Mr. Answers will visit each of these places and will hand a Sovereign to the first person he meets with this week's "Answers" in his hand. To-morrow (Tuesday), in the same way, 25 Notes will be given away at Blackpool and New Brighton. Llandudno on Wednesday. Scarborough on Thursday. Southport on Friday. Folkestone on Saturday.

So wherever you go carry "ANSWERS," and you may get one of the

£5 NOTES

representation of the design o

LONDON & PROVINCIAL FURNISHING CO., 248, 249, 250, TOTTENHAM COURT ROAD, W., SAPEND.

'ROYAL AJAX' CYCLE.
Price £5 15 net

Payments only IOs. per month.
Switt, New Hudson, Rover, Rudge Whitwot.h, etc., etc., from 10s. monthly. Write for our 50-page Free Price Lizt
THE SILVER QUEEN CYCLE CO., Ltd. (F.A. Dept.)
56, Edgware-road, London, W.

EDUCATIONAL.

CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENTS AND BUSINESS TRAINING for youths and ladies; 15,000 situs tions streamy secured by Clark's College; for month's training only; most brilliantly successful in England; Day Broning and Variety accession of the college of Circumstances alter cases,

al hair WAVERS

HOUSES, OFFICES, ETC., TO LET.

HARROW (near Met. Station).—Charming semi-detached Villa; nine rooms, bath, electfic light; every modern convenience; redecorated; large garden; low rates; rens £45 (or sell); seen any time.—"Stalheim." Pinner-rd. Harrow.

"DAILY MAIL.

THE POPULAR YACHTING CAP FOR COWES WEEK IS A COMPLIMENT TO OUR FRENCH VISITORS.

TABLE ORNAMENTS.

FLOATING FLOWERS FOR YACHT DECORATIONS.

Society flocks to Cowes and the neighbourhood to-day for the great regatta and the visit of the French fleet which will add such lustre to it.

Some very beautiful table decorations have been devised for the dinner-parties that are to take place during the week. On one large dinner-table a low silver tank with floating water lilies, lighted up from saver tank with monthing water libes, highled up from above with electric light, will have a beautiful and cool effect. And, apropos of floating flowers, since Mrs. Earl, of "Surrey garden bas-fune, taught us how to cut pansies off at the neck and float their purple and manye velve theads in howks of silver, gold, or plain green earthenware, we have learnt to appreciate the charm of the flower as we never did before.

Carnations of All Colours

Garnations of All Colours.

When a number of small round tables are used instead of one large one for a dinner, it is customary to decorate each with a different coloured flower. Six tables of pure white, cream, crimson, tea, yellow, and pink roses, will look exquisite at the house of a great hostess near the Solent. Very good, too, will be a combination of only pink and yellow flowers, and nothing can scarcely be lovelier than a set of carnation tables. Carnations of all colours will be used and arrayed a la japonais, ten colours will be used and arrayed a la japonais, ten profession of the colours will be used and arrayed a la japonais. Flowers and fruit are being combined on some smatt tables. A big golden or silver platter of grapes and peaches, half hidden bemeath a profusion of carefully arranged roses (only just plucked) is a sight for the gods, and all the more beauteous if used in combination with Venetian gold-dust glass.

Rose-Petals Scattered Over Salad.

Rose-Petals Scattered Over Salad.

To agree well with a flower-bedecked table the food should be made to look as charming as possible. A white chicory salad over which violets are strewn; tomatoes peeled and chilled, and cut through with a sharp knife to form five petals arranged on white lettuce hearts on a round bed of frozen cream cheese; a chicken chartreuse surrounded with brightly-coloured and delicately cut vegetables; mashed fruit served with frozen cream in old Italian glasses; and rose-petals scattered over a fruit stade—all these ideas are pretty and as new as they are desirable.

Out Mowers in Wood, More

Cut Flowers in Wood Moss.

Garden flowers sarely ever combine well, so it is a mistake to group different kinds of flowers in one composition, and it should be remembered that flowers all want their own leaves, and are less charming tricked out with sprays of asparagus or alien greenery. The Japanese, who have inherited their artistic taste from the decorative standpoint of ages, have taught us to delicately manipulate one branch of flowers as it growing out of its receptacle. Cut flowers last well in a shallow vessel filled with wood moss, kept very moist, and this is how they are preserved on board ship.

VANITY SACHETS.

SCENTED CAPS FOR THE HAIR AT THE SEASIDE.

Last year a little supply of necessary cosmetics was carried by the girl who uses such innocent aids fo beauty in the tiny silver walnut that was suspended from her watch-fob, but this year there is a new device for the same purpose. It takes the form of a little sachet, and on the outside is covered with dainty silk, all gauged and arranged in a most fascinating fashion and deliciously perfumed. When it is folded together it looks like the round, old-fashioned pin-cushion of our grandmother's time. On the outside it is lined with chamois leather.

On the outside it is fined with channots leather. Close observation reveals finy perforations at one side, while on the other is a tiny pocket that contains a small mirror. The circle is fastened together by bows of dainty ribbon, and a flimsy piece of lace digained by the name of a handkerchief is then tucked into the small circle, and my lady is obscure the small sachet when necessary, the pro-cess will be absolutely inconspicuous to the un-initiated.

initiated.

Another device has been brought out that will be extremely popular with those who like seabathing, and who object to the Bad effect too much water has upon the hair. It is a cap constructed of a soft silky material that falls in the most becoming folds and puffs, and right in the centre of the top has a sachet bag filled with the most delicious odour, so penetrating that even the made happy with a most unique handkerchief-bag. She is also provided with the latest and most unioturaive method of being always presentable, for the space between the silk and the perforated piece of chamois teather is filled with a very fine powder. A gentle tap on the outside forces it through the perforations, and it may then be rubbed over the face, instantly removing all traces of the shiny appearance that is so disagreeable in hot weather. All fear of producing a streaky effect is obviated by the presence of the small mirror, and as the unfolded handkerchief can quite heaviest coils of hair will be thoroughly perfumed, and so lasting that for several days following its use the hair is delightfully scented.

So popular is this new method of perfuming the hair that many of those who do not care for bathing will procure the caps and wear them at night or in the garden or on the secluded beach. The sachet bag being removable, it is possible to replenish the receptacle as often as necessary, or to replace the original odour with one more pleasing to the individual and in keeping with the distinctive perfume chosen by her for her general use.

ONE FALSE STEP.

(Continued from page 11.)

The lights were out; but she had fung open the French windows, and stood looking out on the grounds and watching the grey tone of morning errep upwards over the sky.

She did not hear Chester enter. He stood still as he caught sight of the tall, heautiful figure, dim in the mystery of the grey dawn. Why had God made her suffer like this, was the question that he asked himself.

"Eye!"

She turned stowly and heabeard him to the stood still the stood still the stood still the stood stood the stood stood watched himself.

She turned slowly, and beckoned him to her

She utilied story; side. "Come!" she whispered, and, taking his arm, led him out into the grounds and along a path to a seat shadowed by foliage. Cecil Daintree, locked in the library, still slept.

By the Authors of "A Man in a Million."

A New Serial Story

(By Coralie Stanton and Heath Hosken)

Starts on THURSDAY NEXT. "I have been thinking of many things," said Eve quietly, as they sat themselves down in the shadow of leaves that had listened but a brief while before to the whispered story of the man's passion.

"And I also," he answered, taking her cold hands in his own. His voice had been the unsteadier of the two.

"From now," whispered the woman, breaking a long silence, "our lives must be lived apart, Frank."

Frank."

But, even though his feelings had changed and he knew-it, he was loyal. There was no shuffling, no hesitation. His course, mapped out by his honour, was clear as daylight.

"Perhaps for a time," he answered, "but not always, Eve."

for always, Eve."

She did not answer him. A saftron light was tinging the greyness of the sky above.

"No," she whispered at last. "Your freedom must be unconditional. It cannot be otherwise."

"It will not listen to you, Eve," he murmured. It will seem more bearable present. You are stunned. It will seem more bearable presently. The separation before us will not be for always. For a time it means that we must each go our separate ways. Heaven forbid that I should anticipate any man's death; but the life of the man whom I left in the library has not long to run. Or "-he hesitated for a moment—" or is it not possible to snap the bonds that hind you to him?"

"I—I could not face that," she answered,

"But surely.—"

"No. Perhaps you cannot understand me, my feelings; but I could not face that!"

The sky was brightening overhead. A bird twittered.

"I shall make some excuse for going abroad as soon as possible, Frank. I have not the courage to face my father. Will you tell him—as best you can?"

Then Chester harked back.
"Eve, surely if there are grounds for a divorce—"
"No. I—I have old-world ideas, perhaps; but "No. 1—1 have old-world ideas, perhaps; but —but—"

"I could never marry while he—he was alive. It would be something that was not marriage. Oh, don't talk any more on this subject, please."

Some colour tinged her white face.
"So we must go our several ways, Frank. The threads must be snapped. There can be no compromise. My husband is alive."

"No. He is dead, Eve. This is not your husband who has returned a burner between this thing has a shadow of a claim on your."

"No." As be breathed out, "there would always be a samething between us. Always a feeling that was not quite yours, Frank. Don't you understand?"

"No," he answered, not looking at her, "I can't understand this constituting a barrier between a woman and love."

(To be continued.)

CAUTION.—Please note Hackney Furnishing Co. painted over the premises before ordering. We are compelled to notify this in conse-quence of unscrupulous imitators deceiving many of our customers.

HAGKNE

Furnishing Co., Ltd.

Great Bargains Furnishing. for Secure our GREAT GUIDE to Home Comforts, post free.

BUY NOW.

We will store pur-chases six months FREE.

The 'MODEL' SYSTEM.

NO DEPOSIT REQUIRED.

All Goods Packed, Carriage Paid, and Delivered to Your Door Free.

NOTE THE ADDRESS BELOW. Hours 9 till 9. Thursdays close 4. Telegrams, Furniments, Loudon; Telephone, 84 Dalston, and 854 North.

TOWN HALL BUILDINGS, MARE ST., HACKNEY, N.E.

BRITISH MORTGAGE BONDS. Third year of continually increasing success. The Bonus for each $50 Mortragae Bonus entitled to monthly interest and the success and been: In 1903, 1

GOOD SPORT AT ALEXANDRA PA

Let Go the Painter at Last \ -Big Holiday Programme

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

Some heavy showers about noon prevented a sathering at Alexandra Park, where the racing out extremely well in the principal events. Two six races comprising the programme were of account, as the presence of Bill of the Play in the Plate and of Capresi in the Manor Welter convert Plate and of Capacitally into walks-over.

Bill of the Play had no difficulty in conceding mante 8lb., and it was, indeed, surprising that makers traded so liberally on the affair. The sionals did brisk business over the Municipal Hat The north country trained Kararage was very at supported, but not with more confidence than Floode, whose form at Lingfeld Park suggested the Thomas of the Starting post, but the jumped off much more q and was never caught from end to end.

Crystal ran faftly well, and Kearsage made ut ground after rounding the bend, but the adversaring post, but the jumped off much more q and was never caught from end to end.

Crystal ran faftly well, and Kearsage made ut ground after rounding the bend, but the adversaring the starting post, but the jumped off much more q and was never caught from end to end.

Crystal ran faftly well, paid Kearsage made ut ground after rounding the bend, but the adversaring the starting post of the starting that the starting the starting that the

There is, as usual at holiday times, an abund racing arranged for to-day, and granting fine the principal meetings should provide plenty o tainment.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

HURST PARK.
2. 0.—August Plate—BLUE CHINA.
2.30.—Hurst Welter—BONANZA:
3. 0.—Holiday Plate—KAMA.
3.30. Mole Handicap—RED MANTLE.
4. 0.—Sprint Handicap—HOME TRUTH. 4.30.—Summer Plate—PEACEFUL LADY.
5. 0.—Wimbledon Plate—SPLASH.
BIRMINGHAM.
2. 0. Four Oaks Plate-LADY UNCUS II. GELDING
2.30. Snow Hill Plate-SWEET MOIREEN.
3. 0.—Castle Handicap—CRICKET. 3.30.—August Handicap—HACKENSCHMIDT.
4. 0.—Juvenile Plate—TILDA.
4.30 Whitacre Handicap-GUY MIDDLETON.
5. 0.—Rugelev Plate—MONTROUGE

2. 0.—Bondgate Plate—ASTONISHMENT. 2.35.—Yorkshire Welter—BEGONIA COLT. 3.10.—Eishergreen Plate—BEST FRIEND. 3.45.—Great St. Wilfrid Handicap—ROSE POIN 4.15.—All-Aged Plate—RADOO GELDING. 4.45.—Hackfall Plate—FONDLING.

SPECIAL SELECTION. HACKENSCHMIDT. GREY FR

WINNERS AN	D PRICES AT A	LEXANDRA	PARE
Race.	Winner.	Ridor	Delo
Municipal (8)	Snowberry Frances Isobel	W. Halsey	. 11 to
Weiter (5)	Let Go the Puinter	Maddon	21
	Bill of the Play Capresi
ine above are	Sporting Life " price	s. "Sportemar	" price

The second Cupical
TO-DAY'S P	ROGRAMMES.
HURST	PARK.
2.0AUGUST TWO-VEAR-	I.D SELLING DI AME -4 200
	or 100 soys. Five furlongs,
Straight.	st 1b
Faithful Don 9 0	Evio 0 11
The Question 9 0 Pescadero 9 0	Ilfracomba f P 11
	Esprit
Aurora Borealis 9 0 Dying Duck 8 11 Dame Quickly f 8 11
Dame Quickly f 8 11	Pathway 8 11 Maranta f 8 11
Blue China 8 11 All Saints 8 11	Attalea 8 11
Miss Bent 8 11	Glen Brighty 8 11 Lady Ursuline 8 11
2.30HURST WEITER HA	NDICAP of 150 sovs. Seven Turiongs.
The Page 5 9 4	Galeas 3 7 12 Olivares 3 7 10
	Olivares 3 7 10
Morny 4 9 1 Kama 3 8 12 Wild Alarm 5 8 9	Rarer Sort 3 7 10 Renzo 6 7 10
Wild Alarm 5 8 9	Renzo 6 7 10 Felo de Se 4 7 9
	St. Galette 3 7 7
Tankard 3 8 5 Palace Yard 4 8 5	Galeas 3 7 12
Borghese 3 8 4 Vidame a 8 2	Cleeve 5 7 5
Perpetual 4 R 2	Queen's Own 3 7 5 Monkshead 5 7 4
Guilty 5 8 2 Mulligatawny 4 8 0	Rock Thrush 3 7 0
Bridal Road 4 7 12	Reprieve III 3 7 0
3.0HOLIDAY PLATE of	1000 sovs; second to receive sovs, for three-year-olds, One mile and a quarter.	st 1b
Plum Centre 9 3 Challacombe 9 3	aKama 8 7
	Guernsey Lily c 8 2 Sarto 8 2
Queen of the Lilles Q O
Shanid Aboo 8 11 Hellene 8 11	St. Lucia f 7 13
Brilliancy 8 11	Concetta 7 13 Costly Lady 7 13
Oyanean 8 11	Costly Lady 7 13 Premiere Marche 7 13

		THE DAILY
. 1	3.30,-MOLE SELLING HAN	DICAP of 102 soys; winner to
DIZ	3.50.—MOLE SELLING HAN be sold for 60 o yrs st fb. Bulbul 5 9 5 Cross Park 3 8 5 Netherland a 8 2 Sir Henry 5 8 0 Julia Wolf 4 8 0 Julia Wolf 4 7 12	ovs. One mile. Pearl Necklace . 3 7 7 Daylesford . 5 7 5 Yankoe Toy . 3 7 8 Lady Rayleigh c 3 7 5 Duke Royal . 3 7 0 Lady Melrose f. 3 7 0
RK.	Bulbul 5 5 9 5 6 Cross Park 3 8 5 Netherland a 8 2 Sir Henry 5 8 0 Julia Wolf 4 8 0 Red Mantle 4 7 12 Beaulieu 4 7 11	Daylesford 5 7 5 Yankee Toy 3 7 5
Wins	Julia Welf 4 8 0 Red Mantle 4 7 12	Duke Royal 3 7 0 Lady Melrose f 3 7 0
	Beaulieu 4 7 11 4.0.—SPRINT HANDICAP	of 150 soys. Five furlongs,
S.	4.0.—SPRINT HANDICAP strai	ght.
	Divorce Court 4 8 9 Ambrose 4 8 5	Cherry Agnes 4 6 13 Monkeyface 6 6 13
	Twelvebore 3 7 15	Cyrus 3 6 12
larger	Home Truth 4 7 9 Dispute 3 7 7	Princess Bagan 3 6 11 St. Donatts f 3 6 7
turned	Curtain Lecture. 3 7 6 Kazan 3 7 1	Little Dolly 3 6 7 Prince Mirsky 3 6 7 of the	4.30.—SUMMER TWO-YEAR Five furlon	gs, straight.
Maiden ded them	Illustrious 9 7	Egalite 8 7 First Violin 8 4
	Ninias 9 0 Harcourt 9 0	Snow Glory 8 4 Crank 8 4
Parla-	Mirida 8 11	Lady Cadeby f 8 4
t book- profes-	Lycidas 8 7	Flowerer 8 4 Portland Lass 8 4
andicap.	Radium 8 7 Chicot 8 7	Queen's Pleasure 8 4 Pathway 8 4
Frances	San Pedro 8 7 Lennoxlove 8 7	Cherry Nob 6 4 L'Excepcion f 8 4
the filly at the	Galloping Ivy c 8 7 Warfield's Pride 8 7	Chrysoberyl 8 4 Palladia 8 4
at the quickly,	5,0,-WIMBLEDON WEIGH	T-FOR-AGE PLATE of 101
	Bachelor's Walk. 3 8 8	Sir James 3 7 8
p some	Rhodanthe 4 8 4	Acropolis 5 7 8
vantage Frances exandra	Dexter 6 7 12 Fusilier 3 7 8	Little Widow f 3 7 5 Zleff 3 7 5 contest, uriously asquez).	DIDATE	150 sovs. Five furlongs, ght. 150 sovs. Five furlongs, ght asquez).	BIRMIN 20.0-FOUR OAKS PLATE 18 10 18 18 18 18 18 18	of 106 sovs, for two-year-olds.
on the ras also fancied, ing the	Banovallum St 1b	Lady Uncas II g 8 12
ing the result.	Evie 8 9 Amelia 8 12	Wenlock Edge g 8 4 Gold Anchor f 8 9
hrough-	Pleiades II 9 1 Peter Jackson 9 1	Lady Carlton II, f 8 4 Lady Chapel f 8 4
was so	Father Blind 8 9 Rosethorne 8 7	Gartly 8 4 Belle of Broadway 8 4
ck, and	Love Song 8 7 Lamb and Flag 8 7	Duchess of Kendal f 8 4 Vallombrosa 8 4
eck, and should icap at for the on the kly dis-	'45	Merula f 8 4 Transition 8 4
on the	Rosolio g 8 4	Isleta 8 4
1	to be sold for 50 sovs. On	PLATE of 106 sovs, winner e mile, on the Round Course.
ance of weather f enter-	Slumberer 5 9 0	Muted String 3 7 11
f enter-	Lady Granville 6 8 7 Sweet Moireen 4 8 7	Oriana f 3 7 8 Wolsingham 3 7 8
	Kirk Deighton 3 7 11	True as Steel 3 7 8
		Torigo, acraight.
	Xalmia	Lady Stella
1018	Milford Lad 4 8 12	Worfe f 3 7 10
	Cricket 3 8 8 Fair Anna 5 8 7	Truffle dePerigord 3 7 8 Scotch Maid 3 7 7
	Mary Belle 4 8 8 O'Donnell 3 8 0	Eagerly 3 7 5
	3.30.—AUGUST HANDICAP to receive 10 sovs.	PLATE of 200 sovs; second One mile, straight. Mark Wood. 3 7 2 Donaris 4 7 2 Pelo de Se 4 7 1 Red Agnes f 4 6 12 Ya Ve 4 6 11 Keld. 5 6 8
LDING.	Hackenschmidt . 4 9 0 Trastamene . 3 7 8 Barat . 5 7 8 Martina . 4 7 4 Renaissance . 3 7 4 Aid . 3 7 7 Bridle Road . 4 7 3	Mark Wood 3 7 2
and the same	Barat 5 7 8 Martina 4 7 4	Felo de Se 4 7 1 Red Agnes f 4 6 12
	Aid	Va Ve 4 6 11 Keld 5 6 5
	4.0.—JUVENILE SELLING	PLATE of 106 sovs, for two-year-olds, winner to be sold stra	PLATE of 106 sovs, for two- i for 50 sovs. Five furlongs, ght.
T.	Grand Duchess g 8 9 Woodspring 8 8	Wristlet 8 5 Tilda 8 5
	Doushka c 8 8 Centre 8 5	Gabardine 8 5
	Tom Noddy 8 5	A MARKALAN
ARS.	Tom Noddy 8 b 430.—WHITACRE PLATE 103 sovs. One mile 10 svonst 2 9 11 Orbel 4 9 6 Bibury 5 9 6 Bibury 5 9 6 Guy Middleton 5 9 6 Sir Jashua 5 8 7 D. Lychnobite 6 8 6	(a High-weight Handicap) of and three furlongs,
	Swooper a 9 11 Orbel a 9 9	Ripon
PARK. Price.	The Cingalee 4 9 6 Bibury 5 9 6 Gur Middleton 7 9 6	Mat Salleh a 8 0
2-1	Sir Jeshua 5 9 3 Astley Abbott 4 8 7	Rapt 4 7 9
Price. 11 to 8 2 - 1 2 - 1 11 - 2 2 - 5 2 - 7 rters.]	Debutante 5 8 7 Lychnobite 6 8 6	Affinity 5 8 1 Mat Salleh a 8 0 Pusztaleany 3 7 11 Rapt 4 7 9 Trionic 4 7 9 Chili 3 7 7 Lovebird g 3 7 7
rters.]	5.0.—RUGELEY PLATE of 1	Lovebird g
prices,	Red Robe	Lingholme 3 7 10
	Sertorius 4 8 10 Landsman 4 8 10	Lingholme 3 7 10 Fusilier 3 7 10 Montrouge 3 7 10 Dionard 3 7 10 Miss Kirwan g 7 Granada 3 7 7
	Papyrus 4 8 10 Storm Song 5 8 8	Miss Kirwan g 3 7 7 Granada 3 7 7
E of 200 furlongs,
st 15	2,0,-BONDGATE HANDICA	P PLATE of 100 sovs. Five st lb 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11	St. Walston 5 9 0	Straight. yrs st b Grey Toe 3 7 10 O'Donnell 3 7 9 Greenspring 6 7 8 Quietness 4 7 6 Ocean Bride 5 7 2 Eastwood Hill 5 7 2 aAstonishment 3 7 2
8 11	A Skipper 3 8 9 Electric Current., a 8 8	Greenspring 6 7 8
8 11	Clairetta 5 8 7 Tariff 4 8 7	Quietness 4 7 6 Ocean Bride g 3 7 2 Eastwood Hill 3 7 2
8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11 8 11	RIP 2.0.—BONDGATE HANDIGA furlongs, 1918. Walston 1918. St. Walston 2819. St. Walston 389 Electric Current 1888. St. Brinces 189 Frincess 1958. 588 Clairetta 587 Tariff 487 Spring Seat 881 2.35.—VORKSHIREE WEIZI	ER SELLING HANDICAP
Seven	2,35.—YORKSHIRE WELT PLATE of 100 yrs st b Doll Keene 4 9 0 La Sortija 3 8 8 Facan 5 8 6 Causey Park 4 8 5	sovs. One mile.
	Doll Keene 4 9 0 La Sortija 3 8 8	Ranulphus 5 8 2 aBehemoth 5 8 1 aBegonia c 3 8 0 Isabelle II 6 7 10
rs st lb 3 7 12 3 7 10 3 7 10 6 7 10 4 7 9 3 7 7	Causey Park 4 8 5	Isabelle II 6 7 10
4 7 9	5.10.—FISHERGREEN TWO	O-YEAR-OLD PLATE of 100 longs, straight.
6 7 10 4 7 9 3 7 7 3 7 6 3 7 6 5 7 6	Red Rush 9 5 aBest Friend 9 5	Purple Emperor 8 8 aking Duck 8 8
rs st lb 3 7 12 3 3 7 10 6 7 10 6 7 10 6 7 10 5 5 7 6 5 5 7 6 5 5 7 6 5 3 7 6 6 3 3 7 6 6 3 7 6 6 5 7 6 6 5 7 6 6 5 7 6 6 5 7 6 6 6 6 7 6 6 6 6 7 6 6 6 6 7 6	Causey Park 4 8 5 3.10.—FISHERGREEN TW sovs. Six fur Red Rush 9 5 sheat Friend 9 6 o Kispindie 9 0 o Kalspindie 9 0 Gailoper 9 0 Gailoper 9 0 Gailoper 9 0 Gailoper 9 8 sheat Richeld 8 8 shandan c 8 8 shandan c 8 8	## Purple Emperor # 8 8 8 aKing Duck # 8 8 Eldothea # 9 8 Colintralv # 8 5 8 5 8 5 8 5 8 5 9 5 9 5 9 5 9 5 9 5
3 7 6 5 7 4 3 7 0 3 7 0	Carlowrie 8 8 a Barnbrae 8 8	Happy End 8 5 Seamew f 8 5
	Parkfield	Seamew f 8 5 Currucha 8 5 Gosport f 8 5
ds. One	3.45.—GREAT ST, WILFRII sovs; second 10 sovs.	One mile and a half.
st 1b 8 2 8 2 8 2 7 13 7 13 7 13	Whipsnade 4 8 13	Debutante 6 8 0
 8 2  8 2  8 2  7 13  7 13	Rose Point 4 8 8 Bistonian 8 8	Killigrew 4 7 8
8 2 7 13 7 13	Ripon 3 8 5 Athos 4 8 5	Romano 8 7 6
7 13	Keld 5 8 2	Gospork 8 6 DHANDIOAP PLATE OF 180 One mile and a hair 7 Debutante 6 8 0 Allais Gourlay 7 7 Killigrew 7 7 Liza Johnson 5 7 6 Romano 5 7 6 Melaary 7 3 3 activity of the control of the co

0 0000	4.15.—ALL-AGED SELLING PLATE of 100 sors, for all ages. Six furlongs straight. 2. Six furlongs straight. 2. Track to the straight ages to the straight age
3	aresphole g 5 9 41 Duchess 5 9 4
	4.45.—HACKFALL (Apprentice) PLATE of 100 sovs. One mile.
	aFondling 3 6 11 aParish Councillor 3 7 C
2	aHigh Havens 3 7 0 Lola Montez 8 6 11 Rifleite 3 7 0 Grey Leaf 5 7 7
500	Asterisk 5 7 7 Fairy Lilian 3 6 11 Meta Macarthy 5 7 7
1

LATEST SCRATCHINGS.

Marine Plate, Brighton.—Whistling Rufus, Sussex Plate, Brighton.—Park Ranger. Berwick Welter, Brighton.—Keithock, Clittonville Plate, Brighton.—Lady Rachum filly, August Handlang, Birmingham.—Big Gunderbott, Flixton Welter, Haydock Park.—Whistling Rufus, Haydock Park.—Whistling Rufus, Haydock angagements.—King Grouse, Lewes Saluce, Petrory Stakes.—Mor siour Beetcaire.
Priory Stakes, Lewes.—Sulice Renneus All ongagements in H. S. Gill's name.—Fsiry Sanda.

FOOTBALL SCANDALS.

Willie Meredith Explains-Will the Case Be Re-opened?

"It seems hardly true," said Meredith to our Chirk correspondent, who interviewed the popular captain of Manchester City Football Club-on his twelve-months suspension by the Football Association. Meredith is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending a few days at Chirk, his native home, which is spending and the spending and the spending of the commission of inquire. The said and "I tell you the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and "I tell you the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and "I tell you the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of inquire. The said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of the said and the same as I told the three gentlemen at the commission of the said

It is practically settled that Jack White (Sunningdale), the open champion of 1964, and Tom Vardon (Sandwich) shall oppose James Braid (Walton Heath) and Rowland Jones (Wimbiedon Park) in a 72-holes forosome, for £100 a side, over the Walton Heath and Sunningdale courses in October.

KIERAN BEATS BILLINGTON.

In the quarter-mile salt-water championship at South-port on Saturday Kieran, the Australian champion, avenged his defeat by the famous swimmer, Billington, by getting the verdict in record thane—min. 29 1-5 sec. The Bacup man, the holder of the title, was second, and Taylor third.

SPORTING NEWS ITEMS.

On Saturday at New York the M.C.C. team, touring in America, beat a representative New York side by 50 runs.

Harry Vardon played a fine game in a match against J. G. Hutcheson, the Porthcawl professional, on the Porthcawl links on Saturday afternoon, and, going round in 72, won by 4 up and 3 to play.

H. L. Doherty did not defend his title in the Northum-berland lawn-tennis championship at Newcastle on Satur-day, but he partnered Miss C. M. Wilson in the mixed doubles and beat N. E. Brookes and Mrs. Hillyard by two sets to love.

LIVING TOMB.

Lady Lunatic's Terrible Death in an Asylum Cellar.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Friday.—Mme. Marie Gaucher, an immate of Vill Eyrard Asylum, near Paris, was missed one day, and all attempts to find her proved fruitless. She had hidden herself in the cellar. Alarmed by a noise, she had apparently shut herself in the hot-air apparatus, closing the iron door, which opened outwards.

Five weeks elapsed. At length workmen, sent to make repairs found the body of the unfortunate lady.

She had apparently suffered frightful torture, and had been driven by hunger to eat her left arm.

HOLIDAY CYCLING AND ATHLETICS.

Meredith Thrice Defeated-Many Champions at Glasgow-Sprinting Footballers.

TO-DAY'S EVENTS.

Saturday was not an ideal day for sports either on the cinder-path or the grass track. There were alternate showers and thunderstorms throughout the country. But somehow or other the athletic community managed, in the phrase of a famous politician, to "muddle through."

in the phrase of a famous politician, to "muddle through."

The notable feature of the first of the three days' race meeting at Canning Town track on Saturday was the defeat of Leon Meredith (world's long-distance champion) by his old opponent, A. E. Wills. The latter rode a splendidly-judged race in the five miles scratch event for the Memorial Cup, cleverly beating H. D. Buck (British Empire champion) in the run-in along the home straight. Meredith cat out the pace for fourteen of the fifteen laps, but found the effort too much when it came to the supreme struggle in the last half-lap. Meredith also suffered defeat in the one-lap match by a narrow margin only, and also in a one-lap ducl against the watch.

It is only fair to say that he was scarcely in sprinting form, and it must not be forgotten that he has lately also be considered to the control of the states bury (49) and the half-mile to P. G. Curnew, of the Polytechnic (55) after leading all the way.

Perkins (from scratch), with J. F. Crundall (100) second, and W. Hodgkinson (100) third, the winner's time being dand. W. Hodgkinson (100) third, the winner's time being dand. W. Hodgkinson (100) third, second control of the control

TO-DAY'S MEETINGS.

At the Crystal Palace the London County Cricket Club's sports will take place. J. P. Wardle, of the Blackheath Harriers, is the back marker in the open sprint and 3004P.

Interpretation of the Blackheath Harriers, is the back marker in the open sprint and 3004P.

Interpretation of the Blackheath Harriers, is the back marker in the open at the conclusion of the Blackheath Harriers and the Black may possibly be the last of their Bank Holiday meetings at that enclosure, which threatens to fall into the builders' hands.

The Essex Back champion the resulting the Blackheath Harriers and the builders' hands.

At New Barnet, where the half-mile champion, B. J. Blunden, will be running, a meeting in the cause of charrity is fixed to take place on a mammoth scale. By the fixed the scale of the Blackheath Harriers and the Collection of the Blackheath Harriers and the WORLD'S SCULLING CHAMPIONSHIP,

Tonowro, Saturday.—Eddie Durnan, the Canadian sculler, will challenge Stansbury for the world's championship if he defeats the Australian, Tom Sullivan, in his match with him in Toronto Bay on August 23. In any event, Durnan will probably race Stansbury. He could be supported to the championship as a result of his recent match with Towns on the Parramatta, an effort will be made to get him to take Town's place. It is thought that the purso offered, $3,500 a stde, will be enough to tempt Stansbury to come to Canada.—Excurs

TO-DAY'S CRICKET MATCHES.

Cardiff: South Wales v. Australians, Shoffield Vorkshire v. Lancashira. Canterbury: Kent v. Essex, Oval: Surrey v. Notta. Edicater: Licostershire v. Northamptonshira. Taupton: Somepoet v. Middlessz. Elimingsham: Warwickshire v. Worcestershira, Bristol; Glonoastershira, Bristol; Glonoastershira, Bussex.

COTTER'S TRUE FORM.

Worcester's Cellapse-War of the Roses-Canterbury Week.

By F. B. WILSON (Last Year's Cambridge Captain).

Undoubtedly one of the finest bowling performances the year was accomplished by A. Cotter agains Worcester. Cotter has not had the best of luck this season, and has shown no form hitherto which was

On Saturday, however, he did a performance of which creek Jones at his best might have been proud. His lays read as follows:

	· I	irst !	Ennin	gs.
6.4		m. 2		. x. 15	fees.	w. 7
	Se	cond	Inni	ngs.
.0.		m.		T.		W. 5
11		3.		19		5
	-	-		1000		1

if the fifteen shas fell, for 38 sums.

Nor was this a rase of abblishednoting, for the Postess unred out four strong, H. K., R. E., W. L., and G. N. L. and L.

This is the opening of the Camerbury week, a great icial as well as cricket function in Kent. This year ic festival should be a great success, as, besides the ct that the champions, Lancashire, are down to com-tend the control of the week, the are down to com-tend the control of the week, the area of the week. office hours, a point to the bad on the average.

Yorkshire austained their first defeat by Lancachire since 1899 this year at the Uld Trafford. In this match the "Tykes" have the advant, e of the home ground, and they are sune to make a fine fight.

It is to be hoped that they will win, and so make the interest which has been stripped from the Test matches revert to the county observable by the Australians are at Cardiff noday, where they meet South Wales. This at Cardiff noday, where they meet South Wales. This could stimulate cricket there

T. B. WILLSON.

BASY VICTORY FOR KENT.

Kent easily defeated Surrey at Beckenham on Saturday by ten wickets. Score:-

SURREY.
First Innings.	Second Ennings.
Hayward, st Huish, b	1
Hobbs, lbw, b Biythe 6	b Mason 6
Hayes, b Blythe 16	c Fairservice, b Blythe 16 c Seymour, b Mason 9
Helland, st Huish, b	t adjinout, o mason 9
Blythe 16	c Mason, b Blythe 4
Davis, c Mason, b Hearne 16	st Huish, b Brythe 9
Lord Dalmeny, b Blythe 60	c and b Blythe 1
Lees, c Humphreys, b	c Mason b Blythe 9
Nice, lbw, b Humphreys 11	c Mason, b Blythe 9
-N. A. Knox, c Mason, b	400 040
Blythe 7	b Blythe 0
Strudwick, e and b
Blythe 10	c Huish, h Mason 3
Jackson, not out 0 Extras 2	lbw, b Mason 0
Buttas accessor	Louis annual of
Total148	Total
KE	NT.
E. Dillon, c Hobbs, b	C. H. B. Marsham, b
Lees	Hayes 3
Hearne, c Strudwick, b	B. N. R. Blaker, b Haves 6
Jackson 0.	Huish, c Dalmeny, b Lees 5
Seymour, b Lees 0	Fairservice, b Hayes 7
S. Day, c Nice, b Lees 1 Humphreys, c Hayes, b	Blythe, not out
Lees	EAUTHS &
J. R. Mason, b Hayes 35	Total not out, 49; Huish, not out.
23; extras, 6; total (for no wh	t), 78.

"SAMMY" WOODS'S GREAT BATTING.

three os and ten 4 s. Ine g	ame was ieff drawn. Score :-
SUS	SEX.
Robson 50 C. L. A. Smith, c Robson, b Lewis 7 Seymour, b Braund 0	J. Flowers, c Lee, b Hardy, b Braund. 1 W. Newham, ibw, h Rob.
SOMERSET.
H. Martyn, b Re'f 5	F. M. Lee, c Vine, b

YARRANT SAVES MIDDLESEX.

	F. L. Fane, c Bird, b	-	J. W. Douglas, lbw, b
	Mearne	8	Hearne 25
	Carpenter, c Douglas, b		G. Tosetti, b Hearne 6
	Mearne	19	Russell, c Bird, b Hearne 0
	P. Pewrin, b Hearne	7	Buckenham, b Hearne 19
	C. McGahev, b Trott	39	Tremlin, not out 9
	F. Gillingham, & Bind, b	- 3	Extras 13
	Hearne	29
f		84	Total268
t		DDI	ESEX.
3	First Innings.		Second Innings.
	J. Douglas, & Russell, b
S	Buckenham	9	b Tremlin 54
	E. A. Beldam, e Douglas,		c Carpenter, b Bucken-
	b Buckenham	9	ham14
	Tarrant, lbw, b Tremlin	Ð	not out162
a i	C. C. Page, c Russell, b
5	Reeves	24	e Buckenham, L Douglas 13
	Trett, b Buckenham	1	c Russell, b Buckenham 19
	A. R. Littlejohn, b		The second secon
	Buckenham	0	b Douglas 5
	H. Pearce, lbw, b Buck-
	enkam	8	st Russell, b McGahey 17
		27	c Tremlin, b Buckenham 6
	W. S. Bird, c Bucken-
	ham, b Regves	5	c Carpenter, b McGahey 5
	Heerne J. T., b Bucken-
ti	flam	25	not out 56
	Mignon, c Posetti, b
	Tremlin	3	- 10
3	Extras	6	Estras 18
S	m-4-3		Total (for 8 wkts) 309
	Wotal1	TY	Torsi (int 8 Mers) 203

COTTER'S REMARKABLE BOWLING.

At Worcester on Saturday fifteen Worcester wicket fell for 129 runs. During the day Cottex took twelv wickets for 34 runs. Score:—

R. A. Duff, c Cuffe, b	1 D. Gehrs, b Wilson 1
Burrows 14	F. Laver. b. Wilson 0
V. T. Trumper, b Wilson110
C. Hill, c G. N. Poster,	b R. Foster 10
b. Burrows 5	I P. M. Newland, Ibw. b
M. A. Noble, c Hutchings, b Wilson113	W. P. Howell, not out 0
W. W. Armstrong, c	Extras 11
Bowley h B Wester 95	The second second second
Bowley, b R. Foster 95 A. J. Hopkins, b Wilson 9	Total330
WORCES	WERSHIRE.
Birst Benings.	Second Innings.
W. L. Foster, Ibw, b
Armstrong 10	e Newland, b Cotter 0
Bowley, Iby, b Armstrong 9	not out 18
R. E. Foster, c Trumper,
b Chtter 31	b Cotter 4
G. N. Foster, & Hill, b
Cotter	e Howell, b Cotter 0
W. E. C. Hutchings, b
Coster0	b Cotter 14
H. K. Foster, b Cotter 0	c Noble, b Cotter 0
Pearson, lbw, b Armstrong 0	not out 12
Cuffe, b Cotter 4
Burrows, b Cotter 5
Wilson not out
Ainley, b Cotter 0
BX1028 6	Extras 3
Total 78	Total (for 5 wkts) 51
DA SI DESNE	D MATCHES

No play was possible at Bull and Noringham on Saturday, and the games between Yorkshire and Hampshire and Notis and Gloucester were left drawn Yorkshire, 200 for four wickets (declared); Hampshire, 200 for four wickets (declared); Hampshire, 200 for three wickets.

Note, 205; Cloucester, 25 for awo wickets.

CHELTENHAM DEPEAT HAILEYBURY.

At Load's on Saturday Cheltenham casily heat Hasiley hary by eight wickets. The victory was to a large extention to the or some fine bowling by H. M. McKay, who took is the whole match ten wickets for a cost of only 79 suns and 128 celenham, 300 and 22 for two, Halfeybury, 10 and 128 celenham, 300 and 25 for two, Halfeybury, 10 and 128 celenham, 300 and 128 celenham, 300 and 300

FIRST-CLASS AVERAGES.

в
d	BATTING.
B	The qualification t
в	an average of 40.	mis week	TR TAME	nra-ma	3 manues	WILLI
В	an average of 40.			Most
В				in an	Times
В					Not Out.	Aver.
в		Innings. I	715	341
8			020	233	9	68.60
я	C. B. Fry		561	255*	3	67.33
3			529	303*	5	55.75
1	W. W. Amstrong		760	267	1	54.60
1	M. A. Noble		804	187*	2
ı	Capt. Greig	32 1	480	195	0	50,25
1	L. G. Wright	28 1	248	277	7 7	46.22
1	C. McGapey	27. 1	234	204	0	45.70
1	Mayward	45 .18		129%	2	45.24
4	Denton		799	172	2	44.97
1	Iremonger	25 11	550	239	0	44.28
	Kinneir	32 1	341	158	1	43,25
	L. O. S. Poidevin	30 11	157	168%	3	42.85
	Hon F. S. Mckson	25 . 5	966	144*	2	42.00
3	Sharp		079	110*	4	41.50
4	Bowley	28 1	102	217		40.81
3	Tyldesley	39 1	455	250	2	40.41
9	Tyrdesity	Signifies
4
1		BOWLI
	The qualification	this week	is siw	ty-eight	wickets	with an average of 21.)
4		Overs.	Midns.	Runs.		Aver.
3	Haigh	129	168	1516	102	14.86
	Thompson	505	120	1354		15.38
	Rhodes	862.2	252	1995	1138	16.90
	Lees	. 1057.2	300	2572	142	18.11
	Hirst	465.3	9.7	1324	70	18.94
	F. Laver	644.3	184	1611 .		19.17
	W. Breasley	836.1	347	2726	141	19.33
d	W. W. Armstrong	703.1	224	1457	7.5	19:42
	Kermode	660.3	168	1892	92	20.56

CCUNTY CHIMPIONSHIP TABLE

three 6's and ten 4's. The game was left drawn. Score :-
The same was left drawn. Score:	Lorenthire
Leach Martyn b Eatras 9 Braund Total 141 SOMERSET. H. Martyn b Ref 5 F M Lee c Vine b	Warauckstrie 13 4 7 2 3 3 27.27 Worsesterskire 13 2 6 6 5 42.85 Norfhamptonshire 9 2 5 2 3 42.85 Essex 14 8 8 3 5 45.46 Dorbysbire 15 3 11 1 8 57.46
P. R. Jonnson, b Ref 5 Robsan, c Raf, b Cto. 7 Lewis, c Smith, b Cox. 0 Lewis, c Smith, b Cox. 0 S A, Treeman, c and b Seymon 3 A, E Newton, not out	Manaphire

AN APPEAL TO REASON.

You must shop. Wise people go to those shops where they get the most for their money. As between two shops, if you knew that equally good value, was to be obtained at both, but that sometaing extra was given to you free with all your purchases at one of them, would you not go to that one instead of to the other where no such additional advantage was to be obtained?

That is exactly the position as between Moneyweight shops and other shops.

shops.
Moneyweight Tradesmen give you Moneyweight tickets free with everything you purchase.

What Do You Get by Collecting MONEYWEIGHT TICKETS?

Prizes varying from 2/6 to £1,000, there are 10,000 PRIZES.

OUR GUARANTEE CHANCERY LANE SAVE DEPOSIT AND OFFICES COMPANY, LIMITED, 68 & 64, Chancery Lane, London, W.C., 17th July, 1908.

Gentieren,—We acknowledge that you have this day deposited with us as Trustees a £1,000 Bank of England Note, No. 2/S 15314, dated 20th January, 1904. It is understood that this note shall not be withdrawa until a date between the 1st and 38th of December next, when it is to be handed over by us to the person who shall have been adjudged the wimer of the highest Grand Prize (value £1,000) in accordance with the Rules and Instructions of the Moneyweight Prize offer, a copy of which is deposited with the zote.—Vours faithfully, Chancery Lame Safe Deposit and Offices Company, Limited, E. VINCENT EVANS, Manager and Secretary.

To the Moneyweight Advertising Co. (1998), Ltd...

To the Moneyweight Advertising Co. (1995), Ltd., 17, Rosebery Avenue, E.C.

If all your tradesmen do not yet issue Moneyweight tickets, ask them to oblige you by writing us for particulars.

Begin Collecting To-Day !

MONEYWEIGHT

17, Rosebery Avenue, London, E.C.

RAILWAYS, SHIPPING, ETC.

MAKE A NOTE OF THIS.

ALL PRINCIPAL HEALTH and HOLIDAY RESORTS.

5/6

SPECIAL CITY TO SEA ST EXCURSIONS.

EVERY WEDNESDAY.

10 WESTON-SUPER-MARIE.

PADDINGTON, Jep. 8.0. a.m. DAY TRIP.

1.37 a.m. HALF-DAY TRIP.

HALF-DAY TRAIN formed with LATEST

TYPE of CORRIDOR COACH.

PADDINGTON, MED. STRATFORD-ON-AVON. Return 5-5 a.m. MÖNDAY, MUGUST 34, DAY TERP to STRATFORD-ON-AVON. Return 6-5 a.m. MÖNDAY, MUGUST 34, DAY TERP to Bath. Bristol, Glourester, Cheltenham, MFTGAR.

7.50 a.m. MONDAY, AUGUST 14. DAY TEPP to Newbory, Winehester and SOUTHAMPION. Tickets also issued to include STEAMBOAT TRP ROUND the ISLE OF WIGHT, FARE 58. 6d.

VISIT OF THE FRENCH FLEET

CHEAP DAY EXCURSIONS to SOUTHAMPTON from PAD DINGTON, etc.

WEDNESDAY August 9. PADDINGTON, Dep. 6.35 a.7 SUNDAY, August 13. PADDINGTON, Dep. 9.10 a.m. DAY TRIPS to NEWBURY, WINCHESTER, and SOUTHAMPTON.

ROYAL NATIONAL EISTEDDFOD of WALES at EXCUESTONS to MOUNTAIN ASH. HEALTH MAD THE MAD T

Bookings in connection from Addison-anad, Hammersmith, Shopherd's Bush, Aldgate, King's Cross, Baker-street, West-burne Park, etc.

For details, see bills and pumphlets, or send postcard to Enquiry Office, PAUDINGTON STATION: Twiephone $52. Paddington. JAMES C. INGLIS, General Manager.

LONDON WILSON LINE Inclusive TOURS.
First Class: 19 days, 84gs. 17 days, 14gs.
NORWAY. Hinghrated book furnits from UNITED SHIPPING CO, Ltd., 106, Fencharch st, E.C.

SITUATIONS VACANT.

A Representative wanted for a first-class firm; no risk or outlay; exceptional opportunity for sweat man with good references.—Write V., 1850, "Baily Mirror," 12, White-friarest, E.C.

Hisrost, E.C.

MENTS until d. 6d, Prelighter Jutte 300 fires, and 12 wouth. Lighter Depot, Netherhall, Buncaster, and June 1988, and June 198

DENTISTRY.

DENTIS

MARKETING BY POST.

AI DEVONSHIRE CLOTTED CREAM

LAND, HOUSES, ETC., FOR SALE.

A House for 6d. a day.—Sixpence a day paid for a years will easily you to purchase a house worth 4500 an any will easily you to purchase a house worth 4500 an any plication to J. Serem (Box 273), 72, Bichopagatest Without, London, E.O.

LFUEDD.—210 down, shalmore as rent 140, per week, will bour kitchen, coullery, bath, and three bedrooms: good gardens: full particulars and photo sent on application—group of the property of th

SHOREHAM Beach.—Bungalow, 4 rooms; price, unfur-nished, £125; furnished, £155,—Address "Harbeur

Wiew.

MUSCICAL INSTRUMENTS.

GOTTAGE Grgan, sphendid tone: £4 10z; forgain.—115, Bishop's rd. Cambridge Reath. M.E.

GOTTAGE Grgan; sphendid tone: £4 10z; forgain.—115, Bishop's rd. Cambridge Reath. M.E.

THE CONTROL OF THE CONTRO

THE - -

BIRTHS.

CARBONELL.—On the 3rd inst., at 86, Overstrand-man-sions, Battersea Park, S.W., the wife of John Carbonell, alons, Batteress Park, S.W., the wife of John Carbonell, of a daughter, brighter, and the property of the State Charles of the State Ch

MARRIAGES.

DUNHILL-PENHEY.—On August 5, at Congregational Church, Geraldine-road, Wandsworth, by the Roy. W. Jeys Styles (uncle of the bridgerom), Herbert Edward, youngest son of the late Henry Dunhill, of Euston-road, to Violet, daughter of the late Robert Fenhey, of Hampstead.

DEDMONDS-SLATER.—On August 3. at Roslyn-hill Chappl, Hampstead, by the Rev. H. dow Charles Duglish Edmonds, December 2. at Roslyn-hill Chapple, Hampstead, by the Rev. H. dow Charles Duglish Edmonds, of Stamford, to Ethel Moulton, third daughter of John Slater, of 11, St. John's Wood-Park, N.W., and 46, Berner-street, W.

DEATHS.

BAINES.—On the 3rd inst, at Bradgate, West Hartlepeol, in her 56th year, Dorothy Wilson, wife of George Henry Baines, and cellest daughter of the late Six William Gray Annual Control of the Control of PERSONAL.

YETAB.—Dring to see you. Am terribly bad.

TOR.—Fondly hoping. Always thinking of you.—M.

PLUMS, 24b. 5a, cash.—King. Philipscote, Evesham.

RECEIVED Six Pounds Eight Shillings from "Restitution."—L.

RECEIVED Six Pounds Eight Shillings from "Restuttion."—I. OOD—Arrange meeting. Have present give CRIECATOD—Arrange meeting. Have present give DOTTH—Stated Monday. Doctor's orders. Quite well.
Trust sams and happy. Please write soon.
HHE "Dully Mirror" will be forwarded point tee daily for HHE "Dully Mirror". Have been dealty for the control of the

 The above advertisements are received up to 4 p.m., and are charged at the rate of eight words for 1s, 6d., and dl. per word afterwards. They can be brought to the office r sent by post with postal order. Trade advertisements in resonal Column, eight words for 4s., and 6d. per word fler.—Address Advertisement Manager, "Mirror," 12, Whitelriars-1k, London.

THEATRES AND MUSIC-HALLS.

THEATRES AND MUSIC-HALLS.

COLISEUM. CHARING CROSS.

IMPOCPANY GHARGES OF PROGRAME.

PROGRAMME AT 12 (NOON) AND 6 P.M.

THE DIAMON EXPRESS. Mr. cell Raisigh sensetional Boodmans. Mr. CLEMENT SCOTT as MAGGIE

IN "PAGLIACOL" Mr. A. C. LILLY is sliring Military Episode. "DRUMMED OUT." FIRED HARGOURT

IN "PAGLIACOL" A. C. LILLY is Silring Military Episode. "DRUMMED OUT." FIRED HARGOURT

IN "PROGRAMME AT 3 P.M. AND 6 P.M.

FREEDET VARIETIES.

GLARING CROSS.

"THE DERBY."

FROGRAMME AT 3 P.M. AND 6 P.M.

TRIBE MOLLY O'L" and "THE EVOLUTION OF RAG

TRIBE MOLLY O'L" and "THE EVOLUTION OF RAG

TO THE THE DERBY."

THE MORE THIFFS PLA." MAGNIFICENT PRODUC
THON O'S THERED SCENE THOM GUOVENTOPHELES.

MISS MADEL LOVE IN "THE WISHING GIRL." Mr.

EDWARD LEVIS. and MISS QUEENE LEGISTON IN O'S THEED SCENE THEOR GUOVENTOPHELES.

MISS MABEL LOVE IN "THE WISHING GIRL." Mr.

EDWARD LEVIS. and MISS QUEENE LEGISTON IN ON. THE SUN ON

AMUSEMENTS, CONCERTS, ETC.

RYSTAL PALACE. BANK HOLIDAY. TRISTAL PALACE. BANK HOLIDAY.

Tremendous programme of Altractions.

COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION.

Representative Display from all parts of the World.

The most complete settlement ever brought to this Country.

Typle Meetity AkliETY ENTERTAINMENTS.

Maxim's Flying Machine.

Maxim's Flying Machine.

Military Bands phying all day.

GORGEOUS FIREWORK DISPLAY by BROCK.

Table of Hote Luncheson and Dinner in the new DisingRooms veriooking the grounds and firework displays.

Mestra, J. Lyons and Co., Ed., Cakers by Appointment.

POYAL ITALIAN CIRCUS, "HENGLER", "A

POYAL ITALIAN CIRCUS, "HENGLER", "A

TOTAL TALLAN CIRCUS, "HENGLER", "A

TOTAL THE CONTROLLED STATES OF THE CONTROLLED STATE

BANK HOLIDAY.

W E M B L E Y P A R K BAND OF H.M. GRENADIER GUARDS (Special Programme).

GRAND ASSAULT-AT-ARMS BY H.M. 1st LIFE GUARDS.

THEATRE OF VARIETIES.
POLO. BOATING.
DANCING. DANCING, DANCING.
FIREWORKS. FIREWORKS.

Entrance-ONE SHILLING.

Entrance—ONE SHILLING.

WHERE TO SPEND BANK HOLIDAY, EARLY COURT
Lond Special Attractions.

NAVAL, SHIPPING, AND FISHERIES EXHIBITION EARLY COURT.
NAVIDENCY, STREET OF THE STREET OF TH

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS

are received at the offices of the "Daily Mirror". 12
Whitefriners, E.C., between the bours of 10 and 6
Whitefriners, E.C., between the bours of 10 and 6
(14d, each word afterwards, except for STUCLTIONS WANTED, for which the rate is 1s, for 12 words, and WANTED, to which the rate is 1s, for 12 words, and WANTED, to which the rate is 1s, for 12 words, and Dot, must be accompan, diversiments, I said by Dot, must be accompan, for the words with the company of the company of the CROSSED COUTTS AND CO. (STAMPS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED."). Daily Mirror "devertiers can have DE ACCEPTED." Daily Mirror "devertiers can have been opened for that purpose. If replies are to be forwarded, SUFFICIERY STAMPS TO COVER POUR to be forwarded, SUFFICIERY STAMPS TO COVER POUR TO STAMPS MINDS HE SERRY WITH THE ADVERTISEMENT.

DAILY BARGAINS.

NON-TREAD

OVER BOOT

Joint Sunk for Ball of Big Toe, giving im-mediate comfort from the first moment of wear-ing.

THE

EVERLASTING HEEL.

Invaluable for Ladies' Louis Heels. Sent Carriage Paid on receipt of I/-; Men's Sizes, I/3 per pair.

NO MORE REPAIRING EVER NEEDED.

BEAUTIFUL Baby Long Clothes; sets of 50 articles, 21s.; a bargain of loveliness; approval.—Mrs. Max, 16, The a bargain of Jovalines; approval.—Mrs. Max, 16, The Chase, Nottingham.

BOOTS on Credit; Ladies', Ge, Gent.s', 10s. 6d.; good Business Suits, 27s. 6d.; tallor-made Costumes, 28s.; Cyrle Bis Suits, 27s. 6d.; tallor-made Costumes, 28s.; Cyrle Bis Suits, 28s.; Cyrle Bis Suits, LADIES only 2s. 6d. need be sent with your order for Costumes from 21s.; jackets, drapery, boots, etc.; perfect fit guaranteed; balance is. weekly; quick delivery; pat-terms and self-measurement chart post free—Write Dept 235, A. Thomas, 317, Upper-st. Islington, London, N.

MONSTER 1s. parcel assorted Laces; exceptional value.
Wayte and Co. 84. Parliament-st, Nottingham.

Non-Tread Over Boot. THE LEADING

BOOT OF THE TIMES.

> On the grandest variety of Up-to-date Models in the World.

Lasting as long again as the old style.

Many lines fitted with the GREAT MONEY-

SAVER.

THE EVERLASTING HEEL (Patent No. 22019).

Sample Pair, whole golosh, Genuine Welted, box-calf, Lace or Button, in any leather, Sumer or Winter Substance Sole, 12s. 6d. With or without the everlasting heel. Send size required or old boot.

YOU STAND NO RISK.

L. TANNAR

Articles for Disposal.

Art Cane Baby's Mail Cart; gondola shape; very handtome design; owner will sacrifice high-class carriage fely $28.60. carriage said; $2 positions; quile new; approval.

Newington ment; photo.—Pastor, $0, Brooke-rd, Stoke
Raby Boby at dean Mall-est-Lady will according his one tions; date news designs through the defining by the tions; date news accept 53st, carriage paid; approvi-before payment; photo.—"Rev.," 88, Well-st, Oxford-st, London, W.

London, W.

ALI, Marriages made a Success on easy terms by the use of our lucky 22ct, gold wedding rings and solid gold keepers for 33s. 6d, per pair; watches, clocks, outler; and jewellery delivered on small deposit; balance monthly; 317, Upper-st, slinigton, London, N.

ASTONISHING Bargains—Ladies' and Gentlémeis's real Gold Rings, 2s. 9d. each; single of 3-ctone set, signet, snake; state kind; approval willingly—Hodgson, 25, Richmondaw, Leedis.

wond-av. Leeds.

BABY-CARS, direct from factory, on approval, extrage paid; we save you far, in the £; each or easy payments from 3t, 64, monthly; sund for splendtd new catalogues from 3t, 64, monthly; sund for splendtd new catalogues.

BARGAINII-Lady Black Opal-dial Watch and Bow Brooch, in velve-lined case complete, 6z, 6d,—Bodgson, 23, Richmond-avenue, Leeds.

CHARMING Gooured Ministures; from any photograph, 1st, in aliver pendant, iz, 6d; gold, 6z; sample sent-Chap-CONFECTIONERS (Press; coal, cohe, case, selection).

man Artist, Swanses.

OONFECTIONERS' Ovens; cosl, coke, Br gai, self-contained; tenants fixtures; latest designs; illustrated list free—Mabbott Phomis: Iron Works. Magnesser.

CRAZYWORK.—200 slik and velvet pieces, bright colours, its—Pallister, Draper, Crook.

"DAILY MIRBOR." Ministures, sold to advertise the "Daily Mirror."—Four minister coloured for 5s. 1d, post free.—Send photograph and particulars as to colour of hair, eyes, complexion, and dress, together with P.O. for Os. 1d, to be crossed Coutte and Co., Ministures Dept. 12, Whitefraperd, E.O.

Waltofriarest, E.C.
 PGB Gilleste Patent Safety Rasors—Shipp, Wigston, Licloster; send for booklet, free.
 JONESS V.S. Sewing Machine (unused); cover and accessories complete; sacrifice £3.—17, Shopherd's Bush-green. LADY sacrifices her lovely levelled Hing (stamped), 24. Bracelet, 28; Locket and Neckchain, 2a. 6d.; approval.—B. T., 179 Alamsheier-d, 8.

Hiscolet, 28; Locket Aur. and R. T., 176 Ramsden-48, S.W.
LADY sacrifices two 18-carat gold-cased Orient diamond Rings; only 2s 5d, the two; curb Bracolet 2s, long Watch Guard 2s.; approval.—Miss Andrews, The Goldec, Ealing Dean, W.

LARGE assortment of new and secondhand leather Trunks, Dress Baskets, to be sold cheap.—Wenter, 107, Charing Cross-rd. A Great Demand. Grand Window Attraction,

A tricat Demand. Grand Window Attraction, Art Picture-Postcards; 58 anpeiro cards; 10d., post free; 78 for 18 dd, 108 for 2a; 2d, 144 for 2a; 7d. Also free samples, All very handsomly coloured, Month England Views, 36 Fanous Cricketers (photos), 36 London Views, 36 west England Views, 36 All Pattish Views, 76 and 76 and Wanted to Purchase.

LD Artificial Teeth bought; all should call or forward by poet; full value per return or offer made.—Messrs, M. Browning, Manufacturing Dentits, 135, Oxford-st (opposite Beren-et-t), London (established 100 years).

LD Artificial Teeth bought; for highest prices apply 127. Paget, Dentit, 219, Oxford-st, London; call, or post parcels: Immediate cash or offer made: firm est. 1780.

PARTNERSHIPS AND FINANCIAL

PARTNERSHIPS AND FINANCIAL.

MONEY_-H for require an advance promubly completed at a fair rate of interest apply to the old-established Provincial Union Bank, 30, Upper Brook-st, pawich.

PRIVATE Loans_-Gentleman having capital to faves will lend in sums of £15 mynards to responsible persons on note of hand.—Write £855, "Daily Mirror, '12, White£10 'TV -av.000 timedistry advanced on note of hand, repsyable by arrangement; no fees or curvates; strict privacy_-Chas. Stevens and Co., 12, Devonitre-chambers, Bishopsgate-st (facing Liverpool-st), London, E.O.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Gentleman treats defects of speech—Letters, Speech, 8, Birchin-San, London.

ALL Alimenta, Nervous Mr. George, Stanest, Herbal Speciality, 1988.

ALL Alimenta, Nervous Mr. George, Stanest, Herbal Speciality, will used 1rull particulars attamped envelope—Herbal Medicine Supply, 2321, High-st, Gateshead, Inappanity Collegationary Stangular Speciality, will be supply the standard of the supply of the sup

8) Halitar. LADIES' Belts, Trusses, Elastic Stockings, etc.; illustrated list free.—Mrs. Colwell, 116, Newington-causeway, London, NURSE Powell's Popular Pellets, 2s, 94, and 4s, 6d, per box.—Very Co. 2, Replinghamed, Wandsworth, Sample box free for penny stamp.

Other Small Advertisements on page 15.

nerd's Bush.

—High-class Tailoring on improved system; 10s. monthly.

A. Barwell. 416, Strand, opposite Tiroll.

Oredit Tailoring; ladies; and gent.*s; casiest terms.—mith and Adams, 26, Ludgate-hill, E.O., and 28, Regentk. S.W., Piccodiliy-circus end.

at. S.W., Piccadilly-circus and.
A Fashionable Sult to measure on improved system; 10s.
monthly; fit guaranteed.—Adams, 140, Strand, opposite
New Galety.
BABYS COMPLETE OUTFIT, 68 articles, 21s.; exquisitely made; Robes, etc.; approval.—Call or write Nurse Soct., 251, Urbridged private house, near Askew Arms,
Shepherd's Bod.; 3 chemises, 3 knickers, 2 petticoats, 3 nighticresse, 10s. 6d.—2kws, 89, Union-rd, Clapham.

A.—Free dainty sample Handkerchief, with illustrated lists; conditions of the datamp.—British Linen Company, Oxfordest, London.

A.—9a. PARCEL.—UNDELLINEN.—Eight, ladies chemises, knickers, patticosts. 6 boautiful niglatures of the conditions of et, Bilington, London, N.

SMART Day and Evening Gowns, Millinery, etc; only elightly worn; sale now on; great bargains—Salmon, Il, Hanway-d, Totteham Control.

THERE'S at big Sale now proceeding in the Ladies' and control.

There's a big Sale now proceeding in the Ladies' and the control of the control o

HEAD DEPOT: 33-37, SOUTH ARCADE, FINSBURY PAVEMENT. BRANCHES:—47 to 49, Old Broad Street, E.C.; 72, Fleet Street, E.C.; 21, London Street, E.C.; 34, Eastcheap, E.C.; 26, Eldon Street, E.C.; 195, Aldersgate Street, E.C.; 284, High Holborn, W.C.; 7, Green Street, W.; 111, Victoria Street, S.W.; 1, Tower Chambers, London Wall, E.C. Factories: London and Northampton.

By a Printer's Error in our issue of Saturday this Great Sa'e was announced as "Now Proceeding," whereas the

SALE COMMENCES

Wednesday Next, Aug. 9, and will continue for 10 days only, at 59 and 63, CAMBERWELL ROAD, and 80 (late 40, HIGH STREET, CLAPHAM, S.W. (See WHITLOCK'S further announcement in Tomorrow's "Daily Mirror.")